of Tragedies

HARBOR BEACH, Mich.,
Nov. 14.—Another big lake
freighter, bottom up, was sighted
today in Lake Huron, near Point Aux Barques, where the steamers H. M. Hanna and Matoa are now breaking up.
The vessel's bottom is painted red.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 14.—
The wooden freighter Major was sunk last night off Whitefish Point in Lake Superior, in the second big gale that has swept that lake within a week, according to word received by the boat's owner, Captain John H. Mitchell, here today.

According to the report, the crew of eighteen was rescued by a tug just before the vessel went down.

The Pickands-Mater Company, owners of the Argus, one of the biggest steamers missing, today confirmed the report that ten bodies wrapped in Argus life-belts and identified as members of the crew of that boat were found along the shore of Lake Huron, near Port Huron, Mich.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 14.—With each succeeding hour the biggest tragedy the great lakes has ever known continues to grow. As reports filter in from isolated points
along the shores of Lakes Huron, Superior and Michigan, telling of the finding of more frozen bodies and wreckage of vessels, the number of victims of the four days' terrific storm is now put at 275, and it may go higher. One hundred and eighty-one are known to have perished
on only eleven vessels. Close to 75 bodies have been recovered, washed up on the shores of Huron and Superior, the lakes which took the greatest toll.

Loss Five Million
Vesselsmen here today say the property loss will reach $5,000,000.
Sixteen big vessels, each carrying crews of a score or more, are known to be lost while the wreckage of almost as many smaller boats has been found, making it certain that the total number of vessels wrecked
and sunk will be at least thirty.

And today it seemed that Superior is not satisfied with the toll it has already exacted in human life.

A heavy gale is again sweeping that lake and rescue boats searching for stranded vessels have been forced to abandon their quest and scurry
for shelter.

The steamers Argus, Hydrus and I. M. Scott, five days overdue, and carrying crews of from 23 to 28 men,
helped to swell the total of missing,
while the reports of positive sinking and loss of all on board of the steamers Henry B. Smith and John A. Mc-Geary yesterday, swelled the known list by 50.

REMOVES KIDNEYS TO PREVENT DEATH

Organs of Woman Taken Out and Cleaned to Save from Mercury Poisoning

REMOVE MEMBRANE AND REPLACE

Surrounding Tissue Taken Away that Organs May Swell and Function Properly

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Having taken the extreme measure of removing the kidneys of Mrs. Helen Ja-nin, cleansing them thoroughly and then replacing them in an effort to save her life from bichloride of mercury poisoning, physicians were watching the case with the greatest interest today. Mrs. Janin has shown signs of rallying, and it is hoped that a way of combating the most deadly poison may at last have been found.

Mrs. Janin is said to have taken twenty-one grains of bichloride. Dr.
A. H. Thomas after obtaining permission from Mrs. Janin and her husband, operated. The kidneys were lifted out and washed thoroughly with antiseptics. The enclosing membrane was then removed.

It was explained that this tissue, which was removed, normally lets the kidneys expand and perform their functions. This action is stopped by the poison, however, and when the kidneys begin to swell,
there is no room for this additional expansion.

It was the theory of Dr. Thomas that with the membrane removed, the kidneys might have sufficient room and the chances of being able to throw off the poison would be greatly increased.

NEW ARMS FOR CADETS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Commander P. G. Wrightson has sent in a requisition to the war department
at Washington for 300 new rifles, belts and bayonets, which will be used by the new university cadet battalion.

RYAN DENIES HE SWINDLED WIDOW

Admits Auto Rides and "Prophecy" but Refuses to Admit $15,500 Fraud

James Ryan, alias "Prof. Crane," and Barney Bertsche, saloonkeeper-politician, took the stand in their own defense today in the clairvoyant trial at Chicago.

Ryan admitted having taken Mrs.
Hope McDowd, of West Salem,
on automobile rides and admitted having gazed into the future to see that it held for her, but emphatically denied that he swindled the widow out of $15,500.

Bertsche made sweeping denial of the charges that he collected tribute from members of the trust in return for promised police protection. Under cross-examination he admitted that he paid taxicab bills for detectives who shadowed certain clairvoyants
but the state did not press him to explain his motive.

Ryan created a sensation in the courtroom when testifying on rebuttal, he charged that State's Attorney Hoyne attempted to get him to sign a statement implicating former Chief of Police John McQueen and Captain of Detectives John Halpin
in the clairvoyant cases.

Ryan swore that after he was returned to Chicago from Wyoming,
where he was arrested, detectives
took him to St. Joseph, Mich. There Hoyne joined the party, he said, and offered him immunity if he signed the statement. Ryan said he read over the statement, saw that it purported to be a "confession" on his part that the police heads were accepting protection money from the clairvoyants with Bertsche as a "go-between" and refused to sign it.

PROBES CO-OPERATION

MADISON, Nov. 14.—In quest of information regarding the development of co-operation in Wisconsin and Minnesota, T. J. Coates of Frankfort, Ky., arrived here today
and will spend the week investigating the work of co-operative societies in Wisconsin. He will also investigate the subject of agricultural extension and supervision of rural schools.

LIBEL OPERATORS—FINED

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—For libeling
the girl operators at the local telephone exchange Prince Wrede, member of a distinguished South German family, after fighting the case to the highest courts, today paid a fine of $7,500, assessed by a court martial
of his Lancers regiment in Bavaria.
He had accused the girls of spending their time reading novels and failed to substantiate the allegation.

GOWNS FINISHED HALL DECORATED ALL SET FOR BALL

Bewildering Fashion Display Promised at 1913 Charity Function
Tonight

TO ECLIPSE ALL PREVIOUS AFFAIRS

Special Lighting Scheme
Arouses Enthusiasm
of the Ladies in Charge

GRAND MARCH TO BE INTRICATE

Leaders Have Spent Days Evolving Figures to Delight the Spectators

The gowns are ready, flowers are ordered, Germania hall is turned into a garden of colored lights and delicate decoration, and the Charity ball of 1913 is awaiting the first strains of the orchestra concert at 8:30 this evening, to get under way.

That the affair will eclipse any previous occasions of the sort is the prediction heard upon every hand.
The committees of local society leaders who have the affair in charge
have spared no pains to make arrangements complete in every particular, and each department of the work has been delegated to persons who are "specialists."

Bewildering Display

The display of fashion which will be observed at the ball tonight, it is said by those who are in a position to know, will be bewildering. The 1913 fall and winter modes permit
a range of color and beauty of drapery which will transform Germania hall into a swirling kaleidoscope.

Little is known about individual costumes. These are always kept secret, and "sprung" the night of the ball as a surprise. But there are whispers of French models which are calculated to delight the feminine heart.

The preliminary preparations were practically completed last night. Secrecy was preserved about the style of the decorations, but enough has "leaked out" to show that the scheme will equal or surpass the effects of former years.

Despite the secrecy preserved,
however, the ladies in charge could not "cork up" their enthusiasm over the lighting scheme which was originated and placed by Thurston Owen, manager of the Gas and Electric company. Just what the effects will be is jealously guarded but it is known that the hall will be lighted by a number of subdued and softened lights, and that floods of different colored illumination have been prepared for, to be sprung at intervals upon the dancers.

For the past week, those who will lead the grand march with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sputh have devoted a great deal of time to devising new figures and have developed a perfection that will delight both watchers and marchers.

The gallery from which spectators will witness the ball has been made more beautiful this year than any before. The lighting scheme has been carried to this floor, and although those having charge of this plan have not given out a description of it, those to attend are assured that it will add materially to the evening.

Those in charge of the sale of tickets have reported favorably.

Concert at 8:30
General Chairman Mrs. George W.
Burton has given out the information that promptly at 9 o'clock will begin the grand march, following the concert which begins at 8:30.

Committees in charge of the cloak rooms and other parts of the building aside from the ball room have been working to make them attractive, comfortable and a means of pleasure to the guests.

Special attention has been called to the fact that the street car company has agreed to run street cars from Germania hall to all parts of the city as long as there is a guest left at the hall.

Following is the list of committees
that will have the affair in charge:

Burton.

Hirschheimer, J. W. Skinner, R. B.

FLYNN AND BURDICK BOTH RE-ELECTED

Old Officers Chosen for Another Two Year Term by County Board This Morning

MAY GET INCREASE IN PAY

Sheriff and Others are Beneficiaries Under Schedule of Salaries Recommended Today

The county board this morning re-elected Dr. R. M. Flynn county physician by 23 out of 35 votes. S. L.
Burdick, over whose re-election to the office of poor commissioner
there promised to be a sharp tilt,
won out easily over two competitors,
gathering 29 votes out of 35 votes.

There were three contenders for the county physician's berth. Those contesting with Flynn were Doctors R. H. Gray and A. J. Rosholt. On the informal ballot Dr. Flynn received 22 votes, Dr. Gray 7 and Dr. Rosholt 7.
A motion to make the informal ballot formal was beaten and a formal ballot added another member to Flynn's list of supporters, showing a decrease of two votes in Gray's total while Rosholt retained his 7 votes.

The sensational feature of the program was an attack by Supervisor Guenther upon the methods and administration of Sol Burdick as poor commissioner for the La Crosse district.

Mr. Guenther in nominating Henry Muth for the place maintained the results obtained by Burdick were unsatisfactory, that his work could be improved upon and that during the last year he had not worked in accord with the poor and insane committee of the county board.

Land Burdick

Supervisor Kerrigan nominated
Matt Weber for the position while Supervisor Abel Moore and L. Kleeber took occasion to pay high tributes
to the accomplishments and ability of Mr. Burdick.

The informal ballot gave Burdick
28 votes, Weber only 4 and Muth 4.
Again a motion to declare the informal ballot formal was defeated and Burdick gained one on the first formal vote, thus being elected by 29
out of 36 votes.

E. P. Coburn, trustee of the county insane asylum at West Salem was this morning unanimously re-elected to that office.

A dispute over when the terms of J. L. Pettigill and F. I. Bolles expire, as members of the county school board, prompted the postponement of their election until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Burdick this morning was requested to appear before the board and give his views upon the mothers'
pension proposition. While Mr. Burdick declined to either approve or disapprove of the idea of mothers' pension his talk to the members was not construed as favorable to the measure.

It was during his discussion on mothers' pensions that Supervisor Guenther, who opposed his re-election as poor commissioner, "heckled"
him with questions concerning affairs in the office of the poor commissioner.

Guenther demanded to know why postage stamps, snow shovels and other "luxuries" were granted county dependents.

Mr. Burdick explained to the satisfaction of the board in all instances.

"Alright," said Guenther, "now will you tell us how the county
comes to be paying for the telephone that is installed in your residence?"

Burdick maintained the telephone was put there at the suggestion of other members of the poor commission, that it was used almost solely for business and that the county saved money by having the phone at his house.

Officers Get More Pay

Three county officers receive raises in salaries under the new schedule recommended by the committee on finance. The sheriff's pay is raised from $2,000 per annum to $2,500. The county physician gets an increase of $200, and the poor commissioner for the first district,
which includes the city of La Crosse,
gets an increase of $100.

Following is the schedule of salaries recommended for adoption by the committee: Poor commissioner, $1,000; poor commissioner, second district, $250; poor commissioner,
third district, $250; sheriff, $2,500;
county physician, $1,200; treasurer, $1,200; coroner, $100; clerk of court, $1,200; district attorney, $1, 200; county judge, $2,500; under-sheriff, $1,000; superintendent of schools, $1,300; janitor (two men),
$1,320; highway commissioner, $1, 000; county stenographer, $600;
clerk, $1,500; register of deeds, $1, 000; purchasing agent (county clerk), $100.

Objects to Increase

Supervisor John Kindley objected to the $500 increase in the salary of the sheriff. Other minor complaints were made upon the schedule which was referred to the committee.

A communication from Walter C.
Owen, attorney general, to the effect that it would be illegal to compel the union label upon all county printing, was read.

A resolution by Supervisor Hancock was read.

"Billy" Hitt a Matchmaker; Helps McCombs Win Hand of Miss Williams

Mr. and Mrs. William C. McCombs
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Since the wedding in London a few days ago
of William C. McCombs, chairman of the national democratic committee, and Miss Dorothy Williams it has leaked out that "Billy" Hitt and the former Miss Katherine Elkins,
now his wife, were the matchmakers
in the romance. The courtship began in this city last spring where
Mr. McCombs, who is an intimate friend of President Wilson, spent quite a while supposedly busy with the problems of politics. It now is learned that McCombs was not so busy with political affairs as people generally thought he was.

McCOMBS RETURNS WITH HIS BRIDE

Democratic National Chairman Back from England

and Wife

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Smiling
broadly and with his bride, who was Miss Dorothy Williams, of Washington, on his arm, William F. Mc-Combs, chairman of the democratic national committee, arrived here today on the liner Mauretania.

McCombs was immensely pleased with the appointment of Dudley Field Malone as collector of the port of New York. He said he learned of the appointment yesterday by wireless.

Asked in regard to the post as ambassador to France, which still stands open to him, McCombs said:
"I do not care for public office. I thought it was generally understood that I have not considered the matter of becoming ambassador to France. I do not expect to take any public office."

"The Mexican situation looks very much brighter," said McCombs. "The people in England are not hostile to the United States, as has been reported, but they feel the utmost friendship for this country, particularly in the Mexican matter. I am confident President Wilson will find a peaceable way out of the trouble."

WRECK KILLS THREE

WOOSTER, O., Nov. 14.—A large force of workmen was engaged today
in clearing the wreckage from the Pennsylvania tracks, following a collision last night between a derailed east-bound passenger train and a freight train in which three were killed and five injured.

tured Culiacan, the capital of Sina-

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Smilingly insisting that no news was good news, President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan today continued their policy of secrecy in Mexican affairs.
They are well satisfied with the manner in which their plans are working out. But they insist that premature publicity at this time would possibly interfere with their consummation, so it has been decided to withhold all information until the entire question is cleared up.

Huerta to Get Out

Huerta is going to get out. Every official of the government was confident of that today. The time and manner of his going still remain to be arranged. But there is no doubt,
left from the reports of both Charge O'Shaughnessy and Special Envoy
Lind that the dictator has at least made up his mind that it is impossible to defy the united powers. It is believed here that within a short time, he will not only retire from the provisional presidency but that both he and General Blanquet will leave the army.

With Huerta eliminated, it is expected that a truce between the warring factions in Mexico is possible.
Carranza boldly announces that he will have nothing to do with Huerta or anyone who has been close to him and will absolutely refuse mediation as a means of settling his differences with the federals. But there is no doubt in the minds of officials
here that most of this is the usual Mexican bluff and that Carranza will willingly agree to an armistice if assured that legal elections will follow within a reasonable period.

To Be Quiet by First

Both the president Secretary of State Bryan believe that unless some unforeseen complication arises, Mexico will be comparatively tranquil by the first of the year.

Murder of prominent Americans or other foreigners, or some outrage of that character would upset the plans.
But otherwise they believe matters
are shaping themselves for a compromise which will eventually end in restoration of tranquillity south of the Rio Grande.

When asked regarding a report that the United States had told General Huerta through Charge O'- Shaughnessy that unless he accedes to the American demand by noon tomorrow, the Mexican ports will be blockaded by the United States war vessels, Secretary Bryan said there was no truth in the story.

"No representations have been made to the Huerta government that are in the nature of demands," said Secretary Bryan.

Situation Unchanged

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—Beyond
the usual crop of fresh and groundless rumors, the international situation here today was unchanged
from what it was the first time John Lind retired to Vera Cruz after failing to get a satisfactory answer from General Huerta.

The Mexican officials do not regard the withdrawal of Lind as a formal move, because the special envoy is in Mexico unaccredited, and his actions have not been official. His proposals to the Huerta government were informal.

Lind Hints at Policy

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 14.—John Lind representing President Wilson in Mexico, while refusing to make positive statements, today hinted that further delay on the part of General Huerta in heeding the demands of Washington, may cause the president to recognize the rebels as belligerents.

Lind and the Mexico City embassy officials who accompanied him to Vera Cruz, spent the night at the consulate and remained there today.
If the special envoy had a definite next move in mind, he gave no sign of it.

U. S. Stocks Soar

LONDON, Nov. 14.—American stocks opened on an eighth to two points up on the London exchange
today and further rises were expected during the day.

Well informed brokers said that the upward tendency of American shares was due to an easier feeling in England regarding the Mexican

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THE DANGEROUS RIVAL

By ARTHUR WALLACE PEACH

Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

When Delmar Hammond entered his father's office his attitude was that of great respect and a little excitement, for outside he had just seen the girl his father had hired for their stenographer.

"Father, she's a beauty, and she looks as if she had brains!" Delmar said. "Where did you find her?"

The older man turned his smiling face. "I'm glad you admire my choice; I suppose all you young cubs in the building will be in love with her; but I give you warning—you don't want to."

"Well, it won't be hard. But who is she?"

"She is the daughter of Stanley Vail; you know he went to the wall with his business in a Southern city."

She had no money, and as I had been a friend of her father, I offered her a position when she applied to me. She's shown good courage."

"A month from now she will be taking a life position with someone."

Mr. Hammond sighed. "Yes, I suppose so. I hope it won't be until after this court session. We've got work ahead of us."

When Delmar went out into the outer office of their small suite, he found his friend, Lindon Wallis, waiting for him; and together they went into Delmar's private office, where Wallis whirled on him.

"Man, man, where did you find such a girl? Why, she ought to be a model."

"I don't know about that," answered Hammond, sharply.

"Well, she is a wonderfully pretty girl. You must give me an introduction," Wallis urged.

"Wait till I've had one myself," returned Hammond.

Wallis smiled. "Now, Del, I warn you. I've seen the girl of my dreams, and I intend to see more of her in spite of Hammond and Hammond. I give you fair warning."

"Thanks; dad gave me warning, too. I'll be prepared. You seem to think I'm going to be a dangerous rival. I'll give you the compliment that I think you are. You artistic fellows score over a plain business man every time."

Wallis smiled again. "May the best man win."

Helen Keith proved to be not only beautiful, but, as Mr. Hammond the elder had said, courageous, and as the younger had discovered, intelligent.

In spite of Mr. Hammond's warning, Delmar found himself quickly in love with her. Wallis, too, fell a victim to her charms. Every possible pretext that he could find brought him to the law office, and finally he forced an introduction through the old lawyer.

Thereafter the race was open between the two friends, and each played his best cards. Wallis took her to those gay gatherings where magnetic met, dreamers, poets, writers were present, making an atmosphere in which she was at home.

Delmar employed other tactics; his position in the younger set of the city giving him an opportunity to keep her in touch with gentle folk and gentle ways she had known in her southern home.

So keen grew the feeling, his father warned him again that the friendship might suffer if they carried things too far. Neither of the young men gave heed, however, and the matter came to a crisis.

Delmar secured an engagement with her for one Monday evening, and, on appearing at the house where she was staying, learned that she had driven away with another man. The maid from whom he extracted the information gave him no further assistance in identifying the man, but

Delmar guessed it was Wallis.

It took Delmar a long time to reach home that night; he felt he had been hard hit. She could have made no mistake in the matter of the date; she had deliberately shown her preference for Wallis.

As he thought more about the matter, he began to wonder if Wallis had not plotted some scheme by which he was enabled to take her that night. He would do anything to win. He might have telephoned her, telling her of some change in plans that enabled him to take Wallis's place; such a high handed move would be impossible.

Delmar began to realize that his imagination was getting the best of him, and he decided to interview Wallis in the morning.

He stopped in the latter's studio on the way to his office. Wallis sat up on the couch where he was making up for time lost the previous night, and blinked at his friend rather sourly. The friendship between them had been strained to the breaking point.

"Now, what's on your mind?" Wallis demanded. "I'm, glad you came to see me. If I had seen you there might have been a scandal in the office."

"We can straighten things out here," Delmar said calmly. "I just want to ask you this, and I trust you will be honest with me: Did you have anything to do with breaking my date last night with Helen?"

"And I want to know if you had anything to do with my engagement with her last night? I went there and found she had gone with another chap. I thought it was you."

"And I thought it was you!" fired back Delmar.

Each explained the situation as he saw it and each found he was mistaken.

"Then there's just this to it: She's got another chap. I heard a friend of hers from the south had been up here after her. I'll bet they made off last night, and by this time are man and wife; and all this time we've been making fools of ourselves," said Wallis gloomily.

"There is something funny in this. Dad warned me. He must have known she had another love affair. It stands to reason that a girl such as she would have some one back in her home place. He's invaded the north and made off with her, while you and I have been getting ready to use tomahawks on each other."

The bell rang and Delmar went to the door, and returned with a special delivery letter addressed to him.

"Office boy brought it over," he said briefly, tearing it open.

He read a few lines, then leaned back with a moan. "Wallis, listen to this:

"Dear Dad—This will tell you just what the situation is. Miss Keith is much troubled over the fact that last night she made engagements with you, and then did not keep them. I assure you I was and am the one to blame. In explanation I would say that I carried her away with me to an old friend of mine, a minister, and we were married. We want your wishes for happiness."

"I imagine I have put one over on you boys. You see, I am young at heart in spite of forty-five years, and I have enjoyed it hugely. With love, 'Father.'"

The note slipped from Delmar's limp fingers. "And I never caught on; but I should have. Dad is in his prime and handsome, and I guess Helen, after that wrecking of her home, knew that the best protection and the surest love goes with a man of years."

Saved!

It was midnight. Lord Algy, attired in full evening dress, was swimming in the basin of a public fountain in one of London's squares. To judge from the stroke he was using, Lord Algy was slightly intoxicated. An English "bobby," hearing the splashing, ran up to the fountain and flashed his pocket lamp upon the swimmer, whereupon Lord Algy exclaimed with fervent gratitude: "Thank God! The lights of Dover!"—Everybody's.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's gone so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

Daddy's Bedtime

Thanksgiving
Story— Land Is a Jolly Place.

THANKSGIVING was coming around again. Jack and Evelyn had been talking about it for a long time. They thought that one Thanksgiving day a year was hardly enough.

"You'll have to go to Thanksgiving Land if you want one oftener than that," daddy advised.

"Where is Thanksgiving Land?" the children asked, and so daddy told them the following story:

"Dickie had just been tucked into bed. It was the night before Thanksgiving, and Dickie's mind was full of the next day's dinner.

"The turkey must have been very much in his mind, for presently he saw it come walking into the door, feathered and fine as it had been in the farmer's barnyard.

"I'm going to Thanksgiving Land, Dickie," the turkey said pleasantly. "Wouldn't you like to go with me?"

"Course I would," Dickie replied. In a minute he was up and had hopped on the turkey's back. The turkey then spread its wings and flew right up the chimney with Dickie.

"When they got outside Dickie couldn't see a sign of the house. There was just a hole in the ground where the turkey had come out.

"A fine place, isn't it?" the gobbler inquired as Dickie scrambled to the ground.

"Dickie said yes; it looked very nice. And he glanced round at the trees hung with cookies and tarts and mince and pumpkin and cranberry pies.

"They make 'em over there in that workshop," the turkey explained. The workshop was a huge white building, and the turkey walked right in.

"It was quite the busiest place Dickie had ever seen, for there were hundreds of little elves at work making pies. There was a very wonderful big oven, and the turkey said that bottled sunlight was used for baking.

"After they came out of the pie factory they met little elves hanging the pies up on trees, where, the turkey said, they would be kept until time to send them out for the children's Thanksgiving.

"From the pie workshop they went to the one where cake was made, and the turkey said he would take Dickie next to the place where meat was put on bones to make Thanksgiving turkeys.

"They had almost reached the door when something happened, and turkey and Thanksgiving Land vanished, and Dickie waked to find himself in his own little bed at home."

ALL LOOKING TOWARD BETTER HIGHWAYS

At this time, when Mr. Billings, representing the National Highway association, is in La Crosse to further the program of that organization, there will be interest here in the following news item from St. Louis:

"Senator Bankhead, Alabama, president of the United States Good Roads association, submitted to the national convention of the association, in session in St. Louis, a bill providing for a federal appropriation of $25,000,000 for good roads.

"The bill provides that the $25,000,000 shall be divided among the states in proportion as they appropriate money for road work, the federal allotment to a state to be equal to its own appropriation.

"Governor Major, Missouri, was appointed chairman of a committee to call on the governors of all states to set aside certain days in each year as good roads day."

The plan of the National Highway association differs from the above proposition in that it asks for $50,000,000 instead of half that sum. This is not a loose guess, but is a fairly accurate estimate based upon the cost of the main arteries of the national highway system built of concrete, twenty-two feet wide and a foot deep. In this connection we again call attention to the lesson which our depreciating county roads impressed upon Mr. Goetzman—that permanency is as important as original construction.

INTENSIVE FARMING AND THE COST OF LIVING

The United States is awakening to the importance of intensified farming, and the importance of this as an element in the problem of living conditions is well emphasized in the following words of A. L. Lever, chairman of the committee on agriculture of the house:

"The greatest problem in this country, after all, is the enormously big problem of how to produce more and distribute it at less expense; and, when you have done that, when you have taught the farmer how to produce more per acre, and when you have taught him and the consumer how to reach the consumer from the producer in the cheapest way, you may have approximated a solution of the most important economic problem of the country.

"Can we increase production? Can we do it? Let us see. In Europe, where land has been under cultivation a thousand years, as compared with our farming ours a hundred years, the production, per acre, is two and one-half and three and one-half times greater than it is in the United States with the same class of crops."

Wisconsin is fairly facing this problem. The state university has done a splendid work in increasing the productiveness of our land, and while that which has been accomplished is a mere beginning, we are moving faster than other states in the right direction. The matter of distribution is already having the attention of our leading thinkers, and notwithstanding the governor's veto of one bill and the failure of his own measure because of its burden of expense, the issue is still ripe for attention. The society of equity is working intelligently along both lines.

Recognition of the merits of the plan to secure greater production and readier and cheaper distribution, by the federal government, is indeed encouraging, and we shall soon see Mother Earth "delivering unto Caesar that which unto Caesar is due."

WILSON ANTI-TRUST PLAN COMPREHENSIVE

We republish herewith a summary of President Wilson's anti-trust program as it was written by the United Press association from the original copy of the president's statement:

"Specific definition of just what constitutes a trust.

"Prohibiting merging of corporations which would give the new concern a monopoly in its field.

"Prohibiting interlocking directorates and stock ownership in rival concerns by corporations.

"Regulating stock issues so that water can not be injected into corporation stock so that new combinations can be milked by the promoters who underwrite new issues.

"Making guilt personal, so that directors of corporations and not the corporations shall be punishable for violation of the anti-trust laws and providing for prison sentences and not money fines.

"Prohibiting discrimination in rates, prices, etc., in order to crush out of existence a rival corporation.

"Prohibiting the issuance of fictitious stock and prohibiting the buying by corporations of rival factories merely to close them up to keep their product out of the market.

"Possibly explicitly exempting mutual organizations of farmers and labor unions from the provisions of the law."

Those who are opposed to Theodore Roosevelt's proposal for the establishment of a "benevolent despotism," a condition under which monopoly may exist under government supervision, will like the president's discrimination between that which is merely big business and that which is morally wrong and legally forbidden because it creates monopoly and destroys equality of opportunity. The clauses which forbid interlocking directorates and call for personal punishment by imprisonment are vital, and theoretically the subject is well covered. The thing that people will ask is, "Will it work?" Evidently the president believes that it will, for he says specifically that the problem "must be eliminated for all time."

An important help in the president's program will be Commissioner Davies' plan to canvass all the corporations and make a broad analysis of their effect for either economic gain or economic loss.

USE WATER POWER ACT

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Within the past two weeks three informal applications have been made under the water power law passed at the last session of the legislature. Most of the applications are for the operation of small dams under 250 horse power. The commission has already made the announcement that it will not permit the construction of any dams until the plans have been approved by the commission. This is done so that the property of the riparian owners below as well as above the proposed dam may be safely protected. Under the Husting law the commission has power to grant franchises for the construction of dams and is given the broadest possible powers of regulation so as to insure safety.

G. A. R. LIKES DECISION

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Attorney General Owen's opinion that the $5,000 appropriated at the session of the legislature in 1911 was for the purpose of erecting a monument to Commander W. B. Cushing, at his birthplace at Delafield, Waukesha county, has pleased members of the G. A. R. here. Not only has the state legislature recognized his bravery, but congress passed a bill of thanks for his services in piloting a boat with a torpedo within the enemy's lines and destroying the ram Albermarle off the coast of North Carolina, Oct. 27, 1864. Cushing was the only member of his party to escape. He was promoted to the grade of lieutenant-commander.

WINS FIGHT FOR DEATH

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Axel Freeman, 45, a retired business man of Geneva, Ill., won his fight for death this afternoon, after eight men had overpowered him in the Kane county jail in an effort to prevent him from taking his life.

Freeman was rescued after he jumped into the Fox river early today and locked in jail. He found a piece of steel and was saving at his throat when the jailer discovered him and calling seven prisoners threw him to the floor. Freeman died an hour later in the hospital.

An Honest Druggist Often Gives Good Advice

It gives me great pleasure to take this method of thanking you for what Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root has done for my wife and at the same time to cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers from kidney trouble.

My wife had suffered terribly from kidney disease and had tried all kinds of patent medicines with no success, until a druggist recommended Swamp-Root. That brought the only relief she has had in years and she is now feeling better than she ever did before. I believe this is due entirely to Swamp-Root and stand firm in my statement when I say that Swamp-Root is the king of all kidney remedies. You have my consent to publish this statement at any time in the interest of humanity.

A Review of Extraordinary Distinction

The Marshal

By Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews
Author of The Perfect Tribute, etc.
Copyright, The Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Certainly. What for is gratification worth, otherwise?" Francois threw at her earnestly. There were a few English words too much for him still; "gratitude" seemed to be one. He stood up and his great eyes glowed down at her. "Mademoiselle," he said, "two women of earth, my mother and Alixe, are for me the Madonnas, the crown of women," and his glance lifted to the ceiling as if to Heaven, without pose, unconscious—a look no American could ever have worn. "And, voila, Mademoiselle, my little scholar will always stand next to and close to them." He bent over her hand and his lips touched it long and tenderly. "Is it right between us, mon amie? Are we friends always? It is indeed so for life with me."

Then, "I must find that savage boy Henry and beseech him to spare my life," spoke Francois at last. "My life is of more value today, that it possesses a sure friend in Mademoiselle Lucy," he said and smiled radiantly. And was gone. Lucy, to her astonishment, felt light-hearted, felt as if moved into a large, clear, sunshiny atmosphere out of the stormy unrest which had lately held her. Also she found herself thinking over the astonishing things which Francois had said of her cousin Harry. It would seem indeed as if the undying love for the Chevalier Beaupre which had possessed her yesterday night, after all, have been a very young girl's infatuation for an older man, for a dramatic character—a manner of hero worship it might have been. Such things happen. Lucy Hampton, level-headed as well as warm-hearted, began to see in an unphrased way, even as soon as her knight had left her, that it might be so with her. And, with that thought, came the thought of Harry.

"He said—that Harry loved me! What nonsense!" she whispered to herself. And the broken-hearted one was smiling.

CHAPTER XXXIV. Once More at Home.

In fewer words, with less told, Francois' straightforwardness metamorphosed the angry lad Harry Hampton into a follower more devoted than he had been even in the first flush of enthusiasm for his rescued prisoner. Again the boy dogged his footsteps and adored him frankly. And Francois, enchanted to be friends again with his friend, wondered at the goodness and generosity of the people of this world. It is roughly true that one finds life in general like a mirror; that if one looks into it with a smile and a cordial hand held out one meets smiles and outstretched hands in return. Through all his days it had happened so with this child of a French village.

So that when the day came at last when he stood once more on the deck of the Lovely Lucy, loaded with her cargo of tobacco for foreign ports, Francois felt as if he were leaving home and family. The long carpet of the rolling lawn of Roanoke was crowded with people come to tell him good-by. All of his soldier boys were there, the lads trained by him, one and all ready to swear by him or to die for him. Lucy and Harry stood together, and the servants were gathered to do him honor and people had ridden from all over the country for the farewell. His eyes dimmed with tears of gratefulness, he watched them as the gang-plank was drawn up and the sails caught the wind and the ship swung slowly out into the stream.

"Come back again—come back again," they called from the shore. Francois heard the deep tones of the lads and the rich voices of the negroes and he knew that some there could not speak, even as he could not. So he waved his hat silently, and the ship moved faster and the faces on the lawn seemed smaller, farther away, and yet he heard those following voices calling to him, more faintly:

"Come back again—oh, come back again!"

And with that the negroes had broken into a melody, and the ship moved on to the wild sweet music. Way down upon de Swanee Ribber, the negroes sang, and the ship was at the turn of the river. The stately walls of Roanoke House, the green slope crowded with figures of his friends, the sparkling water-front—the current had swept away all of the picture and he could only hear that wailing music of the negroes' voices, lower, more fitful; and now it was gone. He had left Virginia; he was on his way to friends. And for all his joy of going, he was heavy-hearted for the leaving.

The weeks went slowly at sea, but after a while he had landed, was in France, was at Viqueux. He had seen his mother, with her hair whitened by those years of his prison life—a happy woman now, full of business and responsibility, yet always with a rapt look in her face as of one who lived in a deep inner quiet. He had talked long talks with his prosperous father and slipped into his old place among his brothers and sisters, utterly refusing to be made a stranger or a great man. And over and over again he had told the story of his capture and the story of the Count von Gersdorf's great fancy for the song which they all knew:

"De tous cotes l'on dit que je suis bete; Cela se peut! Et cependant j'en ris."

Family, old friends who gathered to see the little Francois Beaupre, who had gone so far from his vil-

He's going to bore us to death with

"Gentlemen: In the winter of 1903
I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia, and later by Lung Trouble. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever and raised quantities of awful-looking stuff,
and later I had many hemorrhages;
at one time three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became so distasteful I could keep nothing down.
Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alternative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well."

NO COMPENSATION FOR LEAD POISON

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—In a Milwaukee case decided by the Industrial commission, it is held that lead poisoning is not an accident but an industrial disease, as a rule of very slow development, and that such diseases are not understood by the commission as being contemplated within the provisions of the present compensation act. In making this decision the commission dismissed the application of Frank Mroz (Mross) for compensation from the Pfister & Vogel Leather company. In this case, the findings show, the poisoning apparently had its origin from some source outside of the employee's business.

SCORES CRITICS OF STATE UNIVERSITY

Lincoln Steffens Says Yale and Princeton Are Jokes Compared to Wisconsin

ATTACKS MCGOVERN AND CARY

Says Governor Is Not Progressive Because He Vetted the Suffrage Bill

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Lincoln Steffens, famous magazine writer, halted here long enough to take several hot shots at critics of the University of Wisconsin and to discuss national issues.

"We think we are opposed to business by dynamite," he said. "We oppose it only because it is crude. Society likes cultured crookedness. Dynamite is nothing but force, and our churches and colleges and society itself are glad to honor the man who exerts the greatest force."

"We won't have war with Mexico if Wilson can prevent it. He does not propose to have the currency issue eclipsed, or put the army at the disposal of foreign investors. Watch Wilson, he's worth it."

McGovern No Progressive

"Equal suffrage is coming and coming fast. The issue of it is so fundamentally right that it is childish. To veto the suffrage referendum here alone kills any claim that Governor McGovern may have to being a progressive."

"You people in Wisconsin do not appreciate your university. It is misunderstood Yale and Princeton are jokes compared to the University of Wisconsin. They know a little about culture, but they know nothing of education. This university knows both."

"I understand that Speaker Hull of your assembly would curtail the work of the university and scatter it in small colleges. He just plain does not know what he is talking about. When a man of his position toys with such a vital issue, he had better study the experience of other states."

Whack at Cary

"It amazes me to hear that your superintendent of instruction not only opposes much of the work of the university but has used his office to circulate among these people statements about the university which have proven to be false. It is these men that Wisconsin wants to keep her eyes on. It is that kind of reactionary spirit, falsely parading under the banner of progressivism, which endangers the reputation which Wisconsin has earned."

"President Van Hise is in a class by himself. He is a great man."

REISSUE COPIES OF BEQUEST TAX LAW

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—The inheritance tax law was changed in some of its more important provisions at the last session of the legislature and the state tax commission has reissued the law in bulletin form for distribution. The pamphlet includes as an appendix notes of the opinions and rulings of the tax commission and decisions of the courts touching upon the more common matters that are likely to arise. There are also added some suggestions relating to special administration and to the notice to be given to the tax commission and public administrator. The report shows that upwards of $4,000,000 has been collected in revenues under this law since its enactment in 1904. Up to June 30, 1912 revenues to the amount of $3,250,850.97 had been produced and during the past year over three-quarters of a million dollars were received.

HORSE HURT IN RUNAWAY

Becoming frightened at a piece of paper blown across their path in the street, a team of horses belonging to the John Koller Grocery company, 628 South Fourth street, dashed into a tree on South Third street. One of the horses was seriously injured, but otherwise nothing was damaged. The driver was a man in the employ of the firm but a half day.

Great Preacher Productive.

A wonderful sermon maker was C. H. Spurgeon. He had no need to repeat himself, for his powers seemed inexhaustible, and, moreover, he made repetition impossible by publishing his sermons week by week. The weekly issue began in 1861, and, though the great preacher died in 1891, he left behind so much material that the publication has continued till this day, and is likely to go on for at least another dozen years. No other published sermons ever attained such popularity as Spurgeon's. One sermon alone sold over 300,000 copies.

Had Him Worrying.

"Alphonse," the American girl asked her titled husband one evening, "why have you been so strange and cold of late?" "Didn't you tell me last week that your father was failing?" "Yes—physically failing," she replied. "Oh!" and his look brightened. He heaved a sigh of relief. "Oh," said he, "that's all right, then! I thought it was something serious."—Princeton Tiger.

"Does the count intend to contest his wife's suit for divorce?" "No, but his creditors do."—Judge.

High School Haps

Wm. Goldberg leaves today for Minneapolis, where he will live in the future. His loss will be a blow to the interscholastic debating team where his place will be filled with difficulty.

The fire drill Wednesday was the best yet held. It took the students but one and three-quarter minutes to clear the building.

The Alumni association of the high school is conducting a vigorous membership campaign under Miss Helen Dorset, treasurer; and Howard Jones of Madison, secretary. The officers feel that the present membership is not a just one in point of numbers and that more alumni should hand in their names to the secretary.

An improvement about the high school grounds may be noticed. Shrubbery has been planted along the west side of the Hixon Annex and in the little plot west of the engine room. Willows and poplars were also planted.

Tomorrow the high school plays the Tomah Indians. The game is comparatively unimportant except that it gives the team a chance to try out its new backfield. Gunderson playing fullback. Zeisler is in at one-half and Kromrey at the other and Garder quarter.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—The control and eradication of potato diseases will be the subject of an address to be made by Prof. L. R. Every Home Needs This Great Remedy

No Home Can Afford to Be Without a Mild, Reliable Laxative-tonic.

No well-regulated home should be without a laxative, for there is scarcely a day in a family of several persons that someone doesn't complain of a headache, of sleeplessness, or show the first signs of a cold.

A laxative then becomes a necessity or what was a trifling congestion at the beginning may run into a serious cold or fever. No harsh remedy is needed, but simply a mild laxative-tonic that will make the liver active and stir up the bowels. People who have tried a great many things, and are themselves heads of families, who have seen the little pills run to big ones, will tell you that there is nothing better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can obtain at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size.

Among the great believers in Syrup Pepsin for constipation in old or young, and as a general household emergency remedy, is Mrs. M. F. Smith, 710 N. Cherry St., San Antonio, Tex. To use her own words, she says she will bless Dr. Caldwell to her dying day for she believes that through his remedy, Syrup Pepsin, she found the way to permanent good health.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is scientifically compounded and its purity is vouched for. Mothers give it to tiny babes, and grown people, taking a little larger amount, find it equally effective. It is mild and gentle, pleasant-tasting and free from griping.

It does not hide behind a high sounding name and is absolutely free from any prohibited ingredient. Families who once use Syrup Pepsin forever after avoid cathartics, salts, pills and other harsh medicines, for these only do temporary good, are nauseous and a shock to any delicate system. Such things should never be given to children.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

SAYS HONOR PLAN WILL BECOME RULE

Warden of Illinois Penitentiary Predicts General Adoption of the Plan

HAVE BANISHED RULE OF SILENCE

Expert Says It Is the Man Who Is Not Allowed to Talk Who Plots

JOLIET, Ill., Nov. 14.—The honor system, first practiced in Illinois in convict road bill, will some day be the rule in every state—and perhaps federal—prison in America, declared Warden E. M. Allen of the Northern Illinois penitentiary, today. Allen who shies at being called a reformer, is enthusiastic about the plan he conceived. He said today that the gang of men which in August was put to work on the road in Lee county near Dixon will be kept there until the end of their ninety day period in December. Numerous gangs will be similarly employed next year.

Banish Silence Rule

The honor system is rapidly being extended to other conditions of prison life at Joliet. The next most recent innovation was the banishment of the silence rule.

"It is the silent man who conspires," said Allen today in justifying the change in regulations which is still considered preposterous by many prison heads. "Force a man into moodiness by refusing to allow him to talk to his fellows, and he will occupy his mind plotting; give him a chance to air his views, roast the country or the prison administration if he sees fit, and when he gets through he will feel contented. Kicking is the great American privilege and the convict feels like a human being when he has a chance to indulge the right occasionally."

Stripes Are Gone

It has been a long time since Allen abolished the stripes which are the odium of the convicts life. Only escaped convicts who have been returned and those who have violated their parole are distinguish by such clothing. The regular prison suit is of gray, for violators of rules, cross barred suits of black and white are provided.

Baseball behind the prison walls is one of Allen's innovations, that has attracted most attention among visitors at the prison. "Of course, the men sent out to the Dixon camp were the best or among the best of this prison, but I believe there are several score more like them among the prisoners," said Allen, "next year, just as at Dixon now there won't be a gun in camp," he added.

Governor Backs Plan

How heartily Gov. Dunne has entered into the plan was shown when Allen explained that the executive had promised to commute the sentences of prisoners employed with the road gang, ten days for every thirty thus employed.

"No, I am not a reformer," said Allen, who fears he will be classed with the men who enthuse over appointments to wardenships, a lot of reform policies and soon abandon them. Allen doesn't care to be called a reformer. He would much rather be thought of as a man who understands prison life. He ought to understand that life, for he was brought up at the Joliet penitentiary. His father was warden there before him. There are "lifers" who recall the youngster when he was in knickerbockers. One or two of the trustees still call him "Eddie."

The Almost Saves Them.

"American women," observes M. Polret, "are so well constructed that they could wear anything." Yet many of them almost don't.—New York Mail.

OREGONIAN FAVORS STATE INSURANCE

After Investigating Wisconsin Law He Declares He Will Urge Similar One on Coast

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—After spending three days here investigating the system of state insurance, J. E. Furguson, insurance commissioner of Oregon, left for New York, uttering words of endorsement in favor of the plan.

"I am for state life insurance," said Mr. Furguson. "I will recommend that a similar law be enacted by the Oregon legislature. I have gone over the data and I think the plan is not only feasible, but practical. A bill in favor of state life insurance was introduced at the last session, but was defeated, because of the scarcity of information about the new plan. I have that information now and I think Oregon will be the second state to have state life insurance."

Mr. Furguson has gone to New York to attend the conference of state commissioners and fire insurance companies over fire insurance rates. Mr. Ekern, who planned to leave yesterday, waited until this morning to accompany Mr. Furguson to the conference.

Weaving the Web of Life.

Life is the daily web of character we unconsciously weave. Our thoughts, imaginations, purpose, motives, love, will, are the underthreads; our words, tone of voice, looks, acts, habits, are the upper threads; and the passing moment is the shuttle, swiftly, ceaselessly, relentlessly, weaving those threads into a web; and that web is life.—S. D. Gordon.

"STOP THIEF"

"Stop Thief" the new Cohan & Harris farce is a veritable laughing cyclone, punctuated by many exciting moments. It is said to be a pyramid of thrills. Absent minded people who cache valuable articles and are then unable to remember the hiding places, a peculiarity condoned under the cloak of kleptomania, are so realistically characterized that the events leading up to the final denouement form a series of laughing climatic surprises as unconventional as they are thrilling. "Stop Thief" is a work by Carlyle Moore, a new man in the field of farce writing. His first effort has stamped him as a man with ideas that one would only expect from a confirmed thief. LILLIAN RUSSELL

John Cort of the fashionable Cort theater, New York, has sent to this city as special envoy to Lillian Russell and her company, Charles Bradford, who is perfecting arrangements for the noted beauty's local appearance at the La Crosse theater Saturday, November 22, and Mr. Bradford divulges many interesting details concerning the fair Lillian and her associate entertainers. Hear him:

"The attraction, carrying its own special orchestra and forty celebrated specialty artists, is the most expensive theater amusement on tour in America. Miss Russell's weekly financial action alone would cover the cost of the most pretentious dramatic attraction. The organization as a whole costs John Cort more than the expense of conducting any theatrical enterprise in the United States, not excepting grand opera. The company travels in its own special private train of eight Pullman cars, these not merely on special trips, but as a regular touring equipment. Two cars—the Mozart and Forum, are occupied by Miss Russell and her four servants; the other six supply the traveling comforts of the rest of the company. The attraction is touring to the Pacific coast mainly to fill special engagements at the Cort theaters in the far west, and a few towns and cities are being played on the way. Many important places enroute are not visited owing to lack of time and the limited season of the organization.

"Miss Russell will sing one or two of the songs that made her famous as the queen of comic opera, and will depict her daily routine in the propaganda of health, youth and beauty. Incidentally, she will display the latest fashions in Paris and London gowns, a collection of stunning female fads and fancies the renowned beauty made during her summer vacation tour. Her so-called disrobing act is by no means as sensational as the newspapers report; she merely disrobes herself of outer garments, furs, coats, jackets, cloaks, outing apparel, etc., adorning and discarding these in her display of women's fashionable attire."

Mr. Bradford further enlightened us theatrically by the information that Mr. Cort would present Anna Held in this city soon after the advent of Lillian Russell.

AMATEURS TONIGHT
A new and varied line of amateurs are booked to appear after the regular performance by the Van Dyke & Eaton Co. at the La Crosse theater tonight.

On Saturday afternoon everybody attending the matinee will receive a present free. The company will not appear here on Sunday and Monday on account of "Stop Thief" and "Blanche Ring" companies.

Qualities of the Diplomat.
"What is a diplomat?" "A diplomat is a man who can make a lie seem more reasonable than the truth; can guess a woman's age without getting it too old or so young as to be absurd, and can do a man an injury and make him believe he has done him a favor."

Gnawish Glee.

"From this time on," said he, when the only woman who had ever rejected him passed from his sight, "from this time mine shall be the delight to wreak vengeance on woman. I shall be a shoe salesman, and instead of selling them shoes one size too small, with my persuasive manner I shall make them buy them smaller still. Ha, ha!"

DENIES HE'S PERVERT

GERMAN COUNT SUIT AGAINST EDITOR BEGINS BEFORE PUBLIC IN BERLIN TODAY

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—The public was admitted to the court today when Count Huelsen-Haesler took the witness stand in his criminal libel suit against Editor Walter Steinhil and denied that he is a moral pervert. When the trial, which is expected to be highly sensational, began, Huelsen-Haesler's counsel demanded that the press and public be excluded. Steinhil demanded an open trial and won his point.

Steinhil in his weekly newspaper, accused Huelsen-Haesler, a personal friend of the kaiser, of perversion similar to that alleged against Zu Eulenberg by Maximilian Harden.

NEW GRAFT CASES FOUND IN GOTHAM

Police Officials' Names Figure in Confessions Alleged to Have Been Made

CONNECTS WITH WIRE TAPPING

Men Alleged to Have Received Graft from Gonderf Gang of Swindlers

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Charges that a deputy police commissioner, an inspector and a captain, whose names District Attorney Whitman freely used as receiving graft from the Gonderf gang of wire-tappers, were contained in an alleged confession obtained from George H. McRea and made public today at the district attorney's office. The disclosures which will result from the grand jury investigation started today as a result of McRea's statement are expected to rival graft sensations unearthed following the Rosenthal murder.

The investigation which has gone on quietly for months, is really an outgrowth of that famous case, McRea was arrested in Los Angeles last month and brought back here by New York detectives. According to the story he told Whitman a deputy commissioner received $2,500 a month and 29 per cent of the wire-tappers' proceeds in return for protection. The inspector received a monthly sum and a percentage of profits. The police captain was a go-between in the dealings with the men at headquarters and the wire tappers, according to the story.

SHOWS OPERATION FOR "CORSETTIS"

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—How to perform an operation for "corsetitis"—a condition arising from wearing snug fitting corsets—was demonstrated by Dr. Herbert Patterson of London, before a gathering of surgeons attending the national congress here, at the county hospital today.

A woman suffering from "corsetitis" was the clinic subject. A tight fitting corset had closed the pylorus—the gateway from the stomach to the intestines—and Dr. Patterson produced a new pylorus by puncturing the stomach, cutting the intestine a few inches below the old pylorus and connecting the two openings.

The same sort of operation, he explained might be necessary in the case of a college youth who wore his belt too tightly strapped about the abdomen.

He is the son of Samuel Brown, undersheriff of Brown county. Mr. Brown left his home during the early part of August to work on the construction of a bridge at Lynxville. Three weeks ago the disease was contracted and he was brought here to the hospital. The body was sent to Green Bay this morning, where funeral services and burial will take place.

TWIN STUDENTS PUZZLE VARSITY

Freshmen Engineers Are Brothers and Even Dad Can't Tell Them Apart

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Except for the fact that they are not fastened together, the Gould brothers, freshmen engineers at the University of Wisconsin, need not take a back seat for the Siamese twins. Stephen and Edwin Gould are twins of the same age, height and weight. They look the same and walk alike, and at home when Eddie speaks his father thinks it is Steve. Besides these resemblances they both draw the same marks in quizzes, and both acknowledge they come from Kansas City.

In "math" class the other day one of the boys put a problem on the board and explained it. When he had finished, the instructor had to look to see which seat was vacant before he could give him a mark.

The Goulds admitted they have become imbued with the Wisconsin spirit, at least as far as "fussing" goes. In returning home from a dance recently, they slyly switched girls and it was not until they got home that they told their partners of the ranspoition.

When asked if they both liked the same type of girl, they agreed to this, "we differ slightly on that point, and perhaps it's a good thing. When we get married we don't want our wives quarreling with each other as to who is their rightful husband."

BUSINESSMEN IN PLEA FOR TRAIN

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Nearly a score of businessmen protested before the railroad commission yesterday afternoon against the application of the Northwestern road to take off the evening and early morning trains operating between Watertown and Fond du Lac. The hearing on the part of the company was conducted by Attorney C. A. Vilas. The burden of the complaint of the Northwestern line was that, according to the testimony of Superintendent G. B. Vilas that the train did not make expenses. He said that it necessitated an extra train crew which absorbed all of the profits and left a monthly deficit.

Residents of Juneau, Fond du Lac, Oakfield, Watertown, Clyman and Burnett Junction, argued that the train was of the greatest service to the public and should be given a longer trial.

BIG DROP IN PRICE OF SWINE ON HOOF

Local people are watching with interest the decided drop in the price of live hogs that has been taking place daily. A month ago hogs at live weight sold for as high as $9, while today they are as low as $6.50, with lighter weights at $7. Farmers explain this as the result of a hold-back on their part. Daily large loads are being brought from the country, as farmers cannot afford to keep their hogs after they have been fattened for the market. Local markets are predicting a drop of from one to two dollars within the next two weeks.

PLAN DIVORCE AT COST

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 14.—To bring divorce within the reach of the poor, and to place women on an equality with men in the marriage relation are the principal objects of a new marriage bill today submitted by the United Parliamentary Committees of Sweden, Norway and Denmark, to the respective parliaments.

The measure provides for a sort of "trial divorce." Each divorce must be preceded by a period of legal separation. Various conditions are laid down whereby it will be found convenient and expeditions for candidates for matrimony to provide themselves with medical certificates. Minors may not marry without the consent of both parents, and no girl under 18 years of age may marry. The bill abolishes the King's prerogative in granting divorce, and there are several clauses aimed at the improvement of conditions of illegitimate and adopted children.

REPORTS SWELL DEATH TOTAL OF LAKE HURRICANE

vessels here still hold out hope that they may have gained some sheltered nook and been unable to report. The wreckage and bodies they say may be accounted for by the fact that part of the upper works of the vessels and some of the sailors may have been carried away by the high waves.

Searching parties today were sent out to scour the southern shore of Lake Huron, where close to sixty bodies are known to have been washed up. Only half of them have been identified.

The unidentified overturned hull sighted off Port Huron, Mich., and the wreck of another freighter upon which the hull is believed to rest, today were believed to be the C. S. Price and the Regina. Around the bodies of the Price's crew washed ashore were found life preservers of the Regina. This convinced lake men that the two crafts collided.

Of the fifty-seven bodies recovered on Lake Huron, twenty are from the John A. McGeehan, ten from the Argus, nine from the Wexford and Price, ten from the Regina, seven from the James Carruthers and one unknown.

The sinking of the tug Lafayette of Cleveland, with a crew of twelve, off Huron Island, in Lake Superior, was practically confirmed by her owners here today.

R. A. Harrison, representing the Lake Carriers' association, arrived at Goderich, Ont., today, where most of the bodies recovered were brought and he will direct the work of searching and taking care of the corpses.

Local vesselmen and boat owners today were loud in their condemnation of the government's action in ordering the United States revenue cutter Morrill from Port Huron to Lorain, Ohio. They pointed out that Lake Huron was the center of the recent storm and that a major portion of the wrecks were reported within a radius of ninety miles of Port Huron. The over turned hull in Lake Huron was left by the Morrill without so much as a light to mark her and sailors say the derelict is a serious menace to lake navigation.

Although five days have elapsed since the reports of the storm's disaster began to come in, government ships, as far as known, have failed to give aid to any vessel in distress.

Loss Ten Million?

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 14.—That the property loss in the storm that swept the great lakes early this week will be staggering was the opinion expressed in marine insurance circles here today. In some quarters the loss was placed at upwards of $10,000,000 but these figures could not be confirmed for want of detailed information.

Find Unknown Hulk

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 14.—The discovery of the upturned hulk of a big steel freighter near Point aux Barques which sailors and wreckers were unable positively to identify was the most conspicuous development today in the storm situation on the great lakes.

Several who viewed the vessel, believed that she was the James Carruthers of Toronto, biggest Canadian freighter on the lakes. The Carruthers is known to have gone down in Huron during the storm with her crew of 25.

The storm which is today sweeping over Lake Superior, halted all efforts to release the many vessels still on the rocks in that lake.

No Hope For Boat

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 14.—"We have no hope that the steamer Isaac M. Scott will ever reach port." This message received today by the Milwaukee Coke & Gas company, it is believed, writes final on the history of one of the biggest coal packers on the great lakes, the Isaac M. Scott, enroute to Milwaukee with a full cargo of coal.

The message was sent from the M. A. Hanna company, the Scott's owners, who have been combing the lakes by wireless since Monday in search of the steamer.

The Scott carried a crew of twenty men.

son providing for an eight instead of a ten hour day for men employed upon county road work was laid on the table by a big vote. The only supervisors favoring the shorter day were Messrs. George Ash, L. B. Cox, E. W. Guenther, Louis C. Holm, J. J. Verchota and R. W. Davis, the chairman.

Must Cash Orders

Here after people obtaining county orders will not receive their money unless the orders are cashed within two years of the date of their issuance. A resolution to this effect introduced by Supervisor Hanson was adopted. The county clerk's office is "buried" with orders for cash which people who have money coming have failed to call for.

An expenditure of $220 for re-wiring at the county jail was approved by the board as was a report of the road and bridge committee which found the new structure at Smith's Coulee in the town of Campbell O. K.

At noon the board left for Onaska to inspect the agricultural school.

NEW HEARING IN LAWRENCE CASE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Another hearing will be granted by the industrial commission in the case of Minnie Lawrence of Superior, whose award of $1,200 was recently set aside by the circuit court. Nine days before the death of her former husband she obtained a divorce from him. Under the decision of the court it is indicated that a divorced father is liable for the care and support of his minor children, when the divorce decree makes no provision directly for their support. It now seems probable that no award will be given to Minnie Lawrence, but it is possible that an award may be made to the dependent children.

"The whole case will be opened up anew," said Chairman Crownhart. "Originally this case was made the subject of an award upon a stipulation. It is now evident that not all of the facts were presented. Evidence will be taken as a basis for further action by the commission."

There is no need to trouble about water and soap when cleaning a window. The easier way is to crush up a newspaper, dip it lightly in paraffin, and use as a polisher. GATHER DATA ON MINIMUM WAGE

Three Women Deputies at Work in State for the Industrial Com-missions

NORMAL SCHOOLS TO AID WORK

Will Work Indirectly with the Board to Gather Facts on Cost of Living

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—In order to have all available information at hand when the minimum wage law for women and minors becomes effective next July, the industrial commission has already detailed three women deputies of the commission to gather statistics. The inquiry is now being pushed in Milwaukee. Information is already collected for the city of Madison. In order that they may be no suspicion as to secret work, the representatives first go to the head of the establishment and obtain permission to talk to the women employees. The workers are then asked to fill out blanks, which give full information of the amounts paid for room and board, the mode of living and all possible data that would indicate the economic condition.

In the same manner the employer is asked to give information as to the periods of employment, number of days work in a year, rates of wages and scale of increase. The information now being gathered will be used by the commission in determining the cost of living at any time, when it is requested to make a specific investigation with the object of fixing a minimum wage.

In connection with the industrial commission's investigation the normal schools of the state have taken up an activity that promises to be beneficial. Each of the eight normal schools maintain a department of economics and sociology. The students of these departments have been granted permission to make investigations in the normal school centers. They will not be employed by the commission, nor will the commission be responsible for their efforts. They will, however, take their indirect instructions from the commission, and will use the blank forms furnished by the commission in gathering their statistics. With the assistance of the work being done at the normal schools, it is expected that before the summer the state will be in possession of more information regarding wages of female workers than is now in existence in any other state.

POLICE HEARING ON MONDAY NIGHT

The hearing by the police and fire commission in the police controversy, scheduled for last night, was postponed owing to the absence from the city of Dr. Gunderson, member of the commission.

It will be held Monday night in the event the member returns to La Crosse by that time.

WISCONSIN LEADS CARING FOR INSANE

Law Authorizing County Asylums Praised by Director of Sage Foundation

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 14.—That Wisconsin's methods for taking care of the insane are far in advance of those of any other state in the union, by virtue of the law authorizing county asylums under state supervision was the statement today of Hastings Hart, director of the department of child helping of the Russell Sage foundation.

30 Years Pioneer
"For thirty years," said Mr. Hart, "this state has been the pioneer in advanced methods of handling the insane problem and I now look for it to be equally progressive in the matter of caring for the feeble minded, which problem is constantly assuming larger proportions. A conservative estimate places the number of feeble minded in Wisconsin at 6,000. There are 2,000,000 in the United States. One-third of the prostitutes are feeble minded women. This fact, in itself, shows the magnitude of the problem."

"The state should be empowered to hold a feeble minded person in confinement as it does the insane. They should be cared for and made at least partly self supporting. The theory that they can be cured and made useful members of society has fallen down so often that it is no longer tenable. In every reformatory there are from 20 to 40 per cent of feeble minded persons."

Causes Hereditary
"The causes of feeble mindedness are chiefly hereditary. I regard laws such as you have in Wisconsin for the sterilization of criminals and idiots as likely to help to remedy the situation but these are not measures and their efficiency still remains to be proven."

The child helping department of the Sage foundation, of which Hart is the head, acts as a clearing house for the gathering and disseminating of the latest information on subjects pertaining to the welfare of children.

Why Do They Do This?
Miss Primp (who is forty-one)—"Yes, I was thirty only last week. Think of it!" The Caller (aged thirty-seven, with charming insincerity)—"Dear me. I couldn't have guessed you were more than four years my senior. I will be twenty-five next month."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ROW IS BREWING AMONG DEMOCRATS

Split Between Wilson and Karel Factions in the State Organization

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—There are all the evidences of a fine little cloudburst blowing up in the state democratic party.

The clouds are gathering, the water is piling up behind the dam and the only uncertainty seems to be in who is going to be drowned.

The party is divided between the Wilson progressives who have all the patronage and a good share of the or.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. ganization but not enough votes to carry the primaries, and Karel democrats who have the organization remaining from the last campaign but not enough votes to carry the election.

The recurrent story popped out again in Madison this week that the weight of the influence of Wilson, Bryan and Davies had been sufficient to swing the state lieutenants of the party to the view that a man of the Karel wing could not carry the party into office, and that a progressive would be chosen to run for the governorship.

It is certain that this influence is being exerted through the party, but its strength is problematical. The influence of the national leaders last year was not enough to halt the nomination of Karel in the primaries by a good sized majority. And the Karel men can point back to the most nearly successful run made by a democratic candidate in many years.

In the meantime, nobody has quite doped out how badly the republican party has been split by the governor. And everybody is keeping discreetly quiet on his bet on the next man in the office.

REMODEL NATIONAL BANK AT M'GREGOR

M'GREGOR, Ia., Nov. 14.—Extensive improvements on the First National Bank of McGregor, one of the earliest national banks established in Iowa, have been completed under the new management which bought the controlling stock interests last winter. The bank is now one of the handsomest and the most thoroughly up-to-date in this section of Iowa. Croch mahogany finish interior woodwork, mahogany furniture, mosaic tile floors, inverted electric lighting system, new front with plate glass below and Luxfer prism lights above and hand decorated walls are among the improvements.

S. Merrill, governor of Iowa at one time, was president of the First National in early years. William Larrabee, another of Iowa's governors, and brother Frank Larrabee bought out the interests of Mr. Merrill and with former Congressman Thos. Updegraff were the largest stockholders for many years. F. Larrabee acting as president. Last winter C. J. Weiser, president of the Winnebago County State Bank of Decorah, and H. Reeves and W. F. Daubenberger of McGregor, bought out the interests of the Larrabee brothers and others and are now the largest shareholders. The present president of the bank, W. R. Kinnaird, has been an official of the institution in one capacity or another since it was founded. The other officers are W. F. Daubenberger and C. J. Weiser, vice presidents; F. S. How the End Will Come.
The professor of natural phenomena had acquired a gasoline car. "The day is coming," he said to his class a few weeks later, "when the tire will sag and punctures pierce the inner tube and the casing blister—and then this old earth of ours will have a blowout that may shake the Dog Star from its kennel and hurl the Dipper to kingdom come!"

CANCER ON INCREASE

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Cancer has taken a place almost on an equal footing with tuberculosis and Bright's disease in the onslaught of death against the human race with medical experts are now doing their utmost to combat, according to a representative of the New York state health department, today. During September of this year, 755 persons died of cancer in the state. Tuberculosis claimed 1,001 victims and Bright's disease 882.

The report declared there were 100 more deaths in the state during September than have occurred in that month for many years. The total deaths was 11,092.

Sea Serpent Attacks Boat.
Another sea serpent has been discovered, according to the officers of the Grand Trunk Pacific steamship Prince Albert. It was encountered by Indians at Skidegate, and is stated to have been 20 feet in length. The monster got hold of one of their canoes, but was dispatched by one of the chiefs, who slashed it in two with a large hunting knife.—Vancouver (B. C.) World.

Chimneys caused fifteen and damage of $16,155.

VARSITY EAGER TO BEAT THE MAROONS

"Beat Chicago" Is Slogan Which Spurs on Team at Camp Randall

DEPENDS ON THE BACKFIELD

If Cardinal Backs Can Get Into Form the Team Has Fine Chance to Win

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14. — An earnest appeal is being made to the students at the University of Wisconsin to stick to their guns and not desert the team. "Fight! Beat Chicago" is the battle cry at Camp Randall and on the campus. The coaches haven't given up and the men on the team feel that Chicago can be defeated by Wisconsin if the Badger backfield rounds into something approaching varsity form. On dope, Chicago is an overwhelming favorite, but Wisconsin in the past has come from behind and scored victory under circumstances and conditions which were not favorable to success for the Cardinal.

Beat 'Em in 1910
In 1910, when Tom Berry was here the Badgers experienced a disastrous season, but they came through against Stagg's men and beat Chicago. In that game Gillette performed brilliantly, and the whole team hit a pace that was a surprise to Stagg's team.

Chicago appears to have two good ends and a clever backfield. The Cardinal line is not a great line, and in that department Wisconsin has little to fear. In the backfield it is a different story. Quarterback Russell of Chicago has blossomed out as a dangerous man, a quick thinking field general and a great drop kicker. Chicago's back field is fast and shifty, with lots of drive, and all of Stagg's dangerous plays. Wisconsin's one hope is to get its backfield going. The Badgers will be forced to resort to a line plunging program, as the Chicago ends appear good enough to prevent much ground gaining with an open style of attack. The coaches will devote practically all of their time to the backfield. Cummings, Tandberg, VanGent and Tormey, are the men who will again be used with Bellows running the team. To date the Badgers have failed to show the proper drive and punch, and there has been practically no interference. Thus far the men have failed to show varsity form in carrying the ball, but the coaches do not regard the task as hopeless, and the Badgers will go into the Chicago game feeling that they will at least have an outside chance to win.

Lacks Variety
Many well wishers of the team have criticized the failure of the coaches to develop a variety of attack. It was painful to see Wisconsin stick to practically the same offense in the Minnesota game that it used against the Michigan Aggies. Men who are close to the inner workings in football at the university admit that the team has shown a limited attack, but they say that the Badgers have been taught many plays that have not been used.

Some Pick Chicago
There is much local interest in the outcome of the Chicago-Minnesota game. Many Madisonians pick Chicago to win. Against Wisconsin, Minnesota made its best gains around the ends, Chicago is well fortified there and Minnesota has not yet shown that it has a successful line smashing team. If the Chicago ends are strong enough to stop Mattern and McAlmon, it appears on dope that Stagg should win. With Stagg pitched against Williams in a contest of football brains, with teams practically even, the odds would be in favor of the "wizard of the Midway."

EXECUTE WIFE SLAYER
RAWLINS, Wyo., Nov. 14. — J. Warren Jenkins, who clubbed his wife to death at Cheyenne April 14, 1912, was hanged in the state penitentiary here at 2 o'clock this morning. He died without making any statement. The trial was sensational. It was shown Jenkins killed the woman with an Indian club in order to get her $25,000 estate.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 14. — Princeton turned out in force today and gave the Tiger eleven a rousing send-off as they started for Greenwich, Conn., where they will remain until a few hours before the game with Yale Saturday. Every member of the squad was in the best of condition.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. — Dartmouth will put in a claim for the football championship of the east if they defeat Carlisle in the game at the Polo grounds here tomorrow. This is the Hanover aggregation's last game and Coach Cavanaugh declared that if it came through with a victory, the Green team is entitled to the championship, having gone through the season without a defeat and scored a touchdown on Princeton where Harvard failed. The squad is in good shape for Carlisle.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 14. — Coach Stagg and the Chicago football squad arrived here today and were met by a delegation of Minnesota rooters. Stagg told Maroon alums ni here that he still believes Minnesota has the "shade" in the battle for the western conference championship to be fought at Northrup field tomorrow.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 14. — Harvard will play Brown Saturday but no one would suspect it from the practice sessions this week. The team was drilled against Yale formations yesterday. The schedule was the same for today. The Crimson will go into the Yale game with two lineups—the one that downed the Princeton Tigers and the other the one which the coaches have developed this week. If one lineup fails, a shift will be made.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 14. — The light signal practice was on the books for the Yale squad today. The team was put through a long drill yesterday against Princeton's formations. Both practice sessions were open. Princeton backers are flooding the city with even money offers. Yale men are asking odds of ten to nine and five to four.

Captain Ketcham announced today the players will not be numbered in Saturday's game. "The players are not trying to win recognition by the public, but are playing for themselves and the university," he said.

BUSH LEAGUERS TO MEET IN OMAHA

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 14. — Delegates to the convention of the National Association of Baseball leagues today after upon reports of committees, recessed in the midst of the discussion to visit the Ohio penitentiary, and adjourned early in the evening after deciding that the 1914 meeting shall be held in Omaha.

From the committee on contracts came a verdict that uniformity, as suggested by Chairman Herrmann of the national commission, is impossible for both major and minor leagues, but an alteration in the constitution makes it possible for Class A. leagues to adopt contracts similar to those of the majors.

RITCHIE IS HOST

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. — As far as New York sports, who have heaped him with congratulations since his victory over Leach Cross, Lightweight Champion Willie Ritchie will give a big box party tonight to sport writers and admirers. Ritchie has finally refused to meet Freddie Welsh, or to consider a match with him until after his battle in San Francisco with Tommy Murphy on December 10.

FAMOUS JOCKEY KILLED

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. — A man believed to be "Tommy" Burns, the famous jockey, was killed early today by an elevated train in Brooklyn. A contract to ride at a Berlin race meet was found in a pocket of the dead man's coat. Besides the contract, $500 in American money and considerable in German currency was found.

Burns was at one time William C. Whitney's jockey. In 1897 he rode 361 winners.

NICKEL FARE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 14. — Universal transfers and a five cent fare to any part of Chicago was assured early today, when the city council, after a twelve hour battle, passed an ordinance authorizing all the street car companies to operate as a single corporation, beginning February 1, 1914.

COUNTY RESPONSIBLE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14. — That the law makes the county and not the town liable for damages for injuries caused by a defect of insufficiency in a state highway is the opinion of Attorney General Owen directed to District Attorney C. S. Roberts of Balsam Lake.

ONLY DROP NEEDED TO BE INDEPENDENT

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 14.—Through a ruling by the United States Circuit court of appeals every Chippewa Indian on the reservation at White Earth, Minn., who has an "identifiable" drop of white blood in his veins will be empowered to hold and sell land without government restriction.

The ruling sets aside the old law that to be able to dispose of land without government restrictions, an Indian must be at least half white. The old law held that it operated against hundreds of red skins who had a trace of white blood in their veins.

The cases decided are only three of the 1,200 suits filed by the United States against purchasers of allotments from what the government declared to be full-blooded Indians. The government contended that an Indian must at least be a half-breed to be considered a mixed blood. These cases will have the effect of deciding all the cases in favor of the defendants.

It is customary to celebrate the last day of school, which shows how the children feel about it.

START TEST SUITS OF TERMINAL TAX

Two Actions Started to Discover Validity of Measure Passed Two Years Ago

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Two suits have been started to test the validity of the law passed at the session of the legislature two years ago, which permits railroad terminals to be taxed locally. Some time ago Attorney John A. Murphy of Superior notified the tax commission that a suit would be started by the Great Northern road to test the validity of the law, claiming that the assessment of these properties locally destroys the rule of uniform taxation. Word has just been received by the commission that the Northwestern railroad company intends to test the validity of the same law on similar grounds. The basis of the latter suit is the $268,000 assessment levied by the city of Milwaukee on merchandise docks of the Northwestern company there. Both Milwaukee city and county have been made defendants in the latter action.

While the terminal taxation law was introduced by Senator S. W. Randolph of Manitowish, it was urged the hardest by residents of Superior, where there are large ore dock holdings. The overturning of this law would deprive lake port cities like Superior, Ashland, Manitowish, Green Bay and Milwaukee of large tax money now collected locally. To insure the immediate payment of these taxes by the railroads, Assemblyman Nye introduced a bill at the last session, which passed, imposing heavy penalties for delay in payment.

"Robber Dollar Sale."

A "robber dollar sale" was the title of a store's recent announcement intended to emphasize the idea that during the month a dollar could be stretched to cover more than its real value, according to the Clothier and Furnisher. To give forceful illustration, ten one-dollar bills were attached to the placard and were so folded that the figure one showed only on the bill at each end, so that at first glance the group looked like a much stretched single dollar.

Believe Flying Snakes Exist.

The belief in the existence of flying snakes is widely current in India, but few people profess to have seen them. It would be interesting to find out how the legend came into existence. These snakes are supposed to live on trees and make a flying dart at their victims. Snakes have been known to drop down trees and bite people but it is not these which are known as flying snakes in India.

Medicinal Weeds.

"Analysis of our edible weeds shows that they possess powerful medicinal qualities. The dandelion, for example, is replete with tonic salts and is aperient, besides being a natural liver medicine; the milkweed is a perfect tonic for the kidneys; and a general cleanser of the system; the common yarrow is a good spring tonic for children; while red clover is one of the richest of all nitrogenous plants, and nitrogen is one of the most strengthening elements."—Farm and Fireside.

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Linger up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once you'll forget that you ever had back ache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

COUNTY BOARDS CONSIDER PENSION

Rosa Aid to Mothers Law Taken Up by Supervisors All Over the State Today

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—The county boards of the state, meeting this week, are considering the working out of the Rosa Mothers' pension law, passed by the last session of the legislature. The law permits the granting of aid to families in poverty, so that the children may be kept in the home and there cared for instead of being sent to institutions, where they are away from their home influence. It is optional with the county boards whether or not they come under the act.

"I am convinced that the investment of a small sum in the home under proper regulations and so that the family is kept intact is far better for the children and hence for the state," said Judge Rosa of Beloit, author of the bill, today. "While the economy of keeping the child in the home is important, it is much more important that every boy and girl should be given a fair chance in life."

SET GUNS ILLEGAL

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Set guns to protect your apple crop are prohibited by law punishable by a heavy penalty. This opinion was given by Attorney General Walter C. Owen today to E. P. Gorman, district attorney of Marathon county. In the letter to the attorney general, the district attorney says that a man set a gun in his orchard to protect some apples and a boy was shot as a result and subsequently died. The district attorney desired to know if the man who set the gun could be prosecuted.

A woman's idea of economy is to visit some one when she takes a vacation.

Don't Blame The Baby

Abolish the Poisonous, Unsafe "Safety" Pin—Learn the Vanta Idea—No Pins or Buttons

Mothers—nurses—big sisters—won't you please save baby from that vicious pin? It not only jabs the baby, but its wounds are poisonous. The "safety" pin is safe only when all goes well with it—like the dish of fly-poison on the shelf that's harmless only until baby happens to get hold of it.

The new Vanta idea in baby clothes makes pins prick or buttons to bruise perfectly barbarous. For it's easier for the mother or nurse, to dress the child with Vanta garments and you save the little one all the danger of pricks and all the risk of blood-poison. Don't put it off a single day, but learn now about at Marshall Field's, A. Starr Best's or Boston Store. Vanta garments—Vest, "V"-Band, and long Gertrude and Abdominal Binder—cost no more than the old kinds, and are guaranteed highest quality made. Money back cheerfully on any Vanta Garment that does not please you.

Vanta Baby Garments

REPRESENTATIVE IS FOR INTERVENTION

W. H. Stafford in Interview
Says that United States Must Go Into Mexico

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 14.—That the United States soon must take a hand in Mexico and that the chances of avoiding intervention are diminishing was the gist of an interview with Congressman W. H. Stafford, publishing here today. The interview follows:

"The Mexican situation is very critical at the present time and official Washington is expecting the formulation by President Wilson of a definite policy toward the turbulent southern republic. I still hope, though the chances are becoming slighter as the complications increase that our government will escape the necessity of intervening to maintain order and protect the lives of foreign citizens and their property, which every civilized country owes to another. This obligation we will have to assume as a corollary to the Monroe doctrine of foreign nations keeping hands off in the settlement of the territorial turbulent disturbances that prevail in Mexico today. This principle we cannot withdraw from as it is an acknowledged part of American international law, particularly as regards all territory between the Isthmian canal and the Rio Grande."

Speaking of the work of the present session of congress Stafford declared it his opinion that the currency bill would finally pass with some amendments.

SET WIRELESS RECORD

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Officers of the United States transport Thomas, arriving here from Manila today reported what they believe to be a new long distance wireless record. While the Thomas was off Guam on September 24, it received base all scores of the Pacific Coast league from San Francisco, 4,900 miles distant, breaking the former record for direct communication by about 300 miles.

Learning a Language.

The time to learn a language is when you are young, the younger the better. We learn our own language as children. The older we grow the harder it is, because it means not merely learning by heart a great many words, not merely training the palate and tongue to produce different sounds, but adapting a new attitude of mind.—Atlantic Monthly.

How "Teetotaler" Originated.

—totaler, the term applied to an abstainer from all fermented liquors, originated with Richard Turner, an artisan at Preston, England, who, contending for the principle at a temperance meeting in 1833, asserted that "Nothing but te-te-total will do." The word was immediately adopted.

Here's an "Ad."

"Cook, for elderly gentleman, with some experience, wanted at once." These elderly gentlemen undoubtedly do have experience. Cooks, beware.—The Tatler.

Exercise. It is a common mistake to think that all the things that are good for us are stupid and unpleasant to take. Something of this latter notion is behind most people's understanding of exercise. To the average individual, gymnastic apparatus, "constitutions" or walks for mere physical benefit, are as boring as a means of occupying one's time as can be imagined. And the average individual's taste is exactly right for the average individual.

Exercise which doesn't amuse, entertain, and hence give relaxation, doesn't as a rule do any good. It only adds to the duties from which the average industrious individual needs a let-up. There is no universal exercise or set of exercises which will furnish a source of youth and perpetual life.

Each individual should, however, seek some form of muscular activity in which he can revel, out of which he can get so much fun as to tempt a neglect of his serious business. Obviously, what will entertain one person will bore another exceedingly. The exercise may take the form of base ball, skating, golf, dancing, horse racing, driving, not looking on, canoeing, tennis, coasting, etc., etc.

There is some danger of over strain in competitive games and sports. If the contestant will stop as soon as he ceases to enjoy himself, however, he will be reasonably safe.

The interesting thing about this conception of exercise is that it will do the physical laborer just as much good after a hard day's work as it will the man or woman who sits at a desk or machine all day. We serious minded Americans need more play, more physical play. We should play for the sake of the game and not for prizes, or just to win honors. We are too apt to hire professionals to play for us and exercise our voice more than our muscles. Not that being a "fan" or "rooter" isn't wholesome. It is, it should not, however, be the end of sports and athletics. For the sake of his liver, heart and nerves, every American should seek a form of physical play adapted to his own individual tastes, strength and requirements.

PROFESSORS NOT TO PAY U. S. TAX

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—University professors will not be compelled to pay a federal income tax on their salaries. This announcement was made today by H. H. Hanson, federal internal revenue collector for the western district of Wisconsin. In the list of exemptions it is found that the salaries of employees of the state are exempted. The university professors are held to be employees of the state. But aside from that the office points out that the law also specifically exempts the salary of teachers. A year ago when the state income tax return was computed it was found that about 16 per cent of the income tax paid by individuals in Dane county came from university professors.

HACKETT HEADS MAJESTIC BILL

Noted Actor Appears in Four Reel Production of "Prisoner of Zenda"

"The Prisoner of Zenda," a four reel production of moving pictures, starred by James K. Hackett, leads the vaudeville bill for the remainder of the week at the Majestic theater. The picture is "lectured" in a pleasing manner by D. S. Greig, who tells the story while the play is being enacted.

The story of "The Prisoner of Zenda" is one of the strongest picture plays ever shown at the Majestic. It deals largely with the love of a subject for his king. The king of Zenda is drugged and a man by the name of Rassendyll is substituted for the king's coronation.

He meets the king's promised wife and she not knowing that there has been a deception, falls in love with him, and Rassendyll falls in love with her. The king is being confined in a castle by his enemies and Rassendyll, the part that is being played by Hackett, with the part of king, rescues him. The film closes with the king and his wife happy and Rassendyll miserable, but happy in the thought that he has served his king.

"The Novelty Dancing Four" are the swiftest and prettiest of the buck and wing variety of dancers that have been on Majestic boards this season. Their costumes are handsome.

Schoen's Ruff-Hous' kids put on another school room act that is a scream from start to finish. For comedy they cannot be surpassed, and they can sing.

Kenney and Williams, ring experts, entertain with feats of strength that are of a new variety. Morris and Daley, with a comedy singing, dancing and talking stunt, are well received. Their line of talk and their songs are clever.

The Majestic last night was attended by about fifty Elks, friends of F. L. Koppelerberger, who yesterday took over the sole ownership of the theater. The attendance was the first night of his "reign" was very satisfactory to the new proprietor.

DOCTORS WELCOME AID OF THE STATE

Over 1,500 Badger Physicians Avail Themselves of Madison Laboratories

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Over 1,500 Wisconsin physicians are availing themselves of the laboratories of the state and university to have disease specimens examined by them or to get advice or information of a medical nature, is the statement of Dr. H. P. Ravenel, director. During the past fiscal year over 8,000 examinations of disease specimens were made. Nearly 50 examinations are made daily and since the establishment of the laboratory in 1904 there have been 29,000 examinations by experts. Live and dead animals, heads of dogs, cats, horses, cows, sheep, swine, rats, snakes, etc., are received every week for examination as to every possible disease. In the past five days twenty-five towns in the state have asked for medical advice on some subject or other.

STATE EXPENSES VOTED NOT HIGH

Cost of Wisconsin Government Reasonable Declares Franklin Club

That the expenses of the operation of the government of Wisconsin are not too high was the verdict of the jury at the Franklin club last night.

P. W. Mahoney, Professor Harry Spence and Roy Ahlstrom took the affirmative, with Dr. A. R. Kempter, Senator Otto Bosshard and Professor Hayden upholding the negative.

Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris and W. E. Barber were voluntary speakers. Lieutenant Governor Morris talking for the negative side and Mr. Barber for the affirmative.

Mr. Mahoney argued that the expenses of the state have increased twenty-two per cent in the past few years. Dr. Kempter replying to this statement held that Wisconsin was one of the most economical states in the union. He compared figures with Wisconsin and California.

Roy Ahlstrom, an assistant on the affirmative, declared that the expense of handling the fish and game protective department runs fifty-six times higher than in 1894. The debaters on the negative disproved this, stating that this department turns $12,000 above all expenses to the state every year.

W. E. Barber declared that the cause of a great deal of the expenditure of the state is due to the many commissions that have recently been added to the long list in the state.

Lieutenant Governor Morris denied that the commissions were anywhere near the heaviest expense, and said that they were necessary to protect life and limb in factories and insure the working class a square deal from the employers.

WAITS IN VAIN FOR HIS MASTER

"Jerry" Veteran Horse of Milwaukee Fire Department Celebrates 25th Birthday

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 14.—"Jerry" celebrated his birthday today. Jerry is 25 years old and is the pet of the entire Milwaukee fire department. "The old boy," as he familiarly is known to every fireman, policeman and "scribe" in the city, hasn't been to a fire for more than ten years.

In his youth Jerry was the private property of Chief Foley. In those days before the use of automobiles to convey the battalion executive to fires, the chief's horse was always driven by the chief himself and was the pride of the department.

On the night of February 3, 1903, Jerry answered the third alarm and conveyed his master to the Schwab Stamp and Seal company fire. Through the long night he stood, unheated, for Jerry was a true "smoke eater," while across the street the flames roared and raged. He waited until the battalion bugles blew the "recall" and then a pipe-man led him away.

Since then Jerry has been waiting for his master, who was buried under a falling wall. He pricks up his ears at each unfamiliar step and stamps impatiently when that in the old days meant an exciting race through the downtown streets when the chief "rolled" to the fire.

Jerry is official escort of all equine patients to the veterinary's headquarters, but besides this has no duties. He is a pensioner.

Deadly Sameness.

"Why so gloomy?" inquired the bachelor friend. "You used to tell me that married life was one grand, sweet song!" "And so it is," replied the gloomy one. "To be more exact, it's one grand sweet refrain—refrain from cards, refrain from smoking, refrain from going to the club, refrain from drinking and refrain from opening my pay envelope until I get home!"

What She Spends.

Some women, says a fashion expert, spend $75,000 a year for dress, about 100 others, $50,000 each; 10,000 others, $5,000; suffragists, $500 down; church workers, $500; social workers, $300; stenographers, $275; shop girls, $250; and factory girls, $200, or $3.84 a week. Newspaper men's wives and fashion experts are in the $75,000 list, of course.

SPANKED—ASKS ARREST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—William Killmon, at the police headquarters, answered an incoming call this afternoon: "Please send a policeman to 226 Marion street right away," said a childish voice, in which there was trace of tears. "Why, what is it?" asked Killmon. "My mamma spanked me," said the youngster. Investigation proved the young lady was seven years old.

"CURE" PEDDLER FINED BY JUDGE

J. H. Schneller, 802 Rose street, assistant state deputy treasury agent, this morning arrested Louis Nelson, claiming to be of Chicago, for peddling a remedy he claimed to be a specific for catarrh. Nelson was selling the goods from house to house without a license. He was taken before Judge John Brindley in county court this morning and fined $29. He left town.

She Knew It All Along.

"My dear," said Mr. Bickers to his wife, "I saw in the papers today a decision of a Virginia court that the wife may, in some cases, be the head of the family." "John Henry," replied Mrs. Bickers, "the courts are sometimes very slow in finding out things!" —Puck.

MOTHER! GIVE CROSS SICK CHILD ONLY "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

If peevish, feverish, tongue coated, give "fruit laxative" at once

No matter what ails your child a laxative should be the first treatment given.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign your "little one's" stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in just a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless fruit laxative. Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

EATING MEAT REGULAR CLOGS THE KIDNEYS, THEN YOUR BACK HURTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally with a tablespoonful of Salts to avoid danger

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region,
severe headaches, rheumatic twinges,
torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment
you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia,

and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids
in the urine so it no longer irritates,
thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive;
makes a delightful effervescent
lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well known local druggist says
he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

INTRACTABLE ON WITNESS STAND

Alleged Murderer Spencer Refuses to Be Sworn and Talks Nonsense when Questioned

WHEATON, Ill., Nov. 14.—Henry Spencer, alleged "wholesale murderer," took the stand in his own defense today in his trial on the charge of murdering Mrs. Allison Rexroat, and proved as wild a witness as he did a spectator.
Spencer refused to be sworn.
"I don't believe in God," he shouted, "I believe in the devil."
"What is your name?" asked State's Attorney Hadley.
"Jean Valjean," responded Spencer,
referring to Victor Hugo's famous character.
"Where do you live?" was the next question.
"Oh, everywhere," responded the prisoner, throwing a grin at the court room.
To nearly all Hadley's questions,
Spencer responded with a mechanical: "I don't know." He professed not to recall any of the details of the crime, said he could not recall having made a confession and declared
he had never heard the name of his alleged victim. After Spencer left the stand, Hadley declared he believed the man was deliberately
"stalling" to support the expected
plea of insanity.
While he was on the stand he continued to shout profanely at the judge the attorneys and the jury.
As he was returning to his chair,
he passed a group of reporters.
"You thought you'd get a good story out of me today, didn't you?"
he sneered. "Well, I fooled you."

SISTER-IN-LAW OF BELLS IN ST.
PAUL FEARS TO ADMIT RE-LATIONSHIP BECAUSE OF CZAR'S LONG ARM

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 14.—After guarding her secret for many weeks,
Mrs. Sara Dannovske, living in a humble home here, today made known the fact that she is a sister-in-law of Mendel Bellis the recently acquitted defendant in the famous "ritual" murder trial at Kiev, Russia.
The woman still lives in deadly fear of Russian oppression. She hesitatingly told about the plans made for Bellis, who she says will make his future home in St. Paul. According to her story, relatives of the fugitive Jew still fear Russian authorities will accomplish their purpose
of putting Bellis out of the way.
Mrs. Dannovske said, Bellis had been offered a huge sum of money
by Americans to go on a lecture tour,
but she believed he would refuse.

BROKER FOR DIVORCE

FRITZ VON FRANTZIUS WHO TRIED IN VAIN TO HOLD
DANCER SAHARET APPLIES FOR SEPARATION

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Fritz Von Frantzius, wealthy banker-broker,
who pursued Saharet, a vaudeville dancer, through several countries before she consented to marry him, was back at his office today, confident that the story he told Judge Sullivan will win him a divorce.
The pretty dancing girl deserted him six days after the wedding in New York. Van Frantzius testified. A few months later he burst into a room in a Chicago hotel, he swore,
and found her and her Spanish dancing partner, Jose Florido. Saharet and Florido are now filling engagements in Australia.
Judge Sullivan took the case under advisement.

MANSON NEEDS ROOM
MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Internal Revenue Collector H. H. Manson of Wausau, who endeavored unsuccessfully to have the office for the western district of Wisconsin
removed from Madison to Wausau,
has been advised from Washington that Postmaster W. A. Devine, custodian of the federal building here,
will furnish him with sufficient space
to conduct the business with facility. Mr. Manson has therefore requested extra space to house the extra clerks who will be employed in the enforcement of the federal income tax law.

GRAND JURY HALTS IN SLINGSBY PROBE; PERJURY CHARGES MAY BE WITHDRAWN

Mrs. Charles Slingsby.
The grand jury probe into the "baby substitution case" in San Francisco has been postponed. An indictment for perjury was sought against Mrs. Charles Slingsby, who was charged with having substituted another baby for her own stillborn child and then swearing in the birth certificate that the child was hers. The case is now before the British vice consulate in San Francisco. If this tribunal finds Mrs. Slingsby guilty the Slingsbys will lose the income of a $1,000,000 estate in England. The grand jury probe may then be resumed.

AFTER SICKNESS OR OPERATION

It is a pathetic mistake to accept drugs or alcoholic mixtures when nature craves nourishment to repair
the wasted body and restore the vigor of health.

For forty years the best physicians have relied on the wholesome predigested nourishment in SCOTT'S EMULSION which is totally free from alcohol or opiates.

Scott's Emulsion sharpens the appetite—renews blood—nourishes nerves—strengthens bones and restores the courage of health to make life bright.

Scott's Emulsion sets in action
the very forces that promote health. Its purity, richness and strength
has stood the test
of forty years.

A Trip To Panama

THE TRIBUNE wants every one of its readers to take a trip to the GREAT PANAMA CANAL, and see the wonders of this mighty achievement. You say you can't spare the time. All right; then we'll bring the Canal TO YOU—all in one BIG volume, filled to the full with PICTURES of ACTUAL SCENES never before published, described in words that hold you spell-bound. Read on, and learn how you may get this magnificent book—this complete story of Panama, in picture and prose—

Not merely a picture book, but an educational work of rare interest to every member of the home.

FOR 98 CENTS

Art plates reproduced from water-color studies abound throughout the entire magnificent volume.

Every progressive man, woman and child is eager to know all about the Panama Canal and the remarkable country through which it passes. Realizing this fact, several hundred newspapers have arranged to take AN ENORMOUS ADVANCE EDITION of the most elaborate and complete illustrated history of PANAMA AND THE CANAL, published by the Syndicate Publishing Co. of New York City.

This company is eminently fitted to issue such a work AT A MINIMUM COST. It has heretofore supplied through daily newspapers millions of high-class dictionaries and other books.

THE TRIBUNE is the one paper in this section through which PANAMA AND THE CANAL IN PICTURE AND PROSE can be had. The plan outlined below tells you how to get this ONLY COMPLETE PANAMA BOOK AT LOW COST

The large volume is twice the size of an ordinary novel; it is a handsome book, stamped in gold, with beautiful color panel on front cover showing the famous Culebra Cut; it contains 450 large pages filled with interesting information of rare educational value to every reader. The illustrations are modern works of art, covering every important scene in the Canal Zone; they include 16 water-color plates with more than 600 photographic studies.

Presented by The La Crosse Tribune

Willis J. Abbot, the versatile writer of international subjects and author of many books of history and travel, spent months in Panama and the Canal Zone in the preparation of this volume. He collected at first hand the complete history of the great Canal, with a wealth of historical data concerning Panama which has never before been written. The result is a human interest story of this beautiful land and its people, from the early days when Columbus tried to find a natural waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, down to the present time.

Our special staff photographers made the hundreds of beautiful views with which practically every page of this exhaustive book is illustrated.

The well-known artist, E. J. Read, made the sixteen sumptuous water-color studies which are reproduced by the latest color process on specially made paper.

FOOTBALL IS BEST PAYING OF SPORTS

Report of Director Ehler Shows Most Profit to University in Gridiron

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Total receipts of the athletic department of the University of Wisconsin during the school year 1912-1913 were $46,617.05 and expenses $45,341.04, leaving a profit of $1,276.01. These figures are from a report made public by Director George W. Ehler. Football was by far the best paying sport, receipts being $37,096.76. Expenses in this department were $19,372.94.

Basketball receipts were $3,918.82 and expenses $3,763.07; baseball, receipts $2,512.51 expenses $3,002.98. Golf activities incurred expenses of $52.60; rowing, $5,805.12; tobogganing, $378.48; track, $5,423.37.

The publication of the Wisconsin Athletic Bulletin was a losing venture financially, with a deficit of $2,027.78. The school year 1911-1912 was closed with a deficit of $6,379.65, so the profit last year, although comparatively small, is a source of gratification to the athletic authorities.

SPARTA, WIS.

The water pipes on Spring street have been lowered because of the grading of the street. In some place there was a great deal of dirt taken out and this made it necessary to lower the water pipes to keep them away from the frost. The curb is also completed on that street, which adds to the appearance of the street. The young people of the Congregational church Sunday school will give a play Saturday evening called the Mother Goose operetta. The church orchestra will furnish the music. Mr. F. P. Stiles is directing the entertainment.

U. S. AVIATOR DIES FALLS AT MANILA

MANILA, Nov. 14.—A spectacular fall into Manila bay with a hydro-aeroplane today killed Second Lieutenant C. Perry Rich, a military aviator. Many naval officers and sailors saw the accident.

UPHOLD MOTHERS' PENSION MEASURE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 14.—The Minnesota supreme court today upheld the mothers' pension law passed by the last legislature as being applicable to every part of the state. The case arose in Stearns county where it was alleged the law was unconstitutional. The county commissioners decided that the probate court had overstepped its authority in ordering aid for children of a woman whose husband was living.

The supreme court holds the probate court was free to order this aid under the mothers' pension law.

VARDAMAN HURLS DEFT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Fiery defiance, typically Vardamanesque, was made today by Senator Vardaman of Mississippi to persons opposing segregation of whites and negroes in government offices here. He denounced them as "misguided, prejudiced, warped negrohobblers." "It's an inscrutable mystery to me why any normal pure white blooded man or woman should object to segregation of the races," said Senator Vardaman. "The two races are unmixable elements. When you try to mix them friction will always follow and the deadly attrition is on the side of the weaker race. It's the law of racial life."

SISSON HEADS THE GOOD ROADS BODY

Oscar Hulberg Elected Secretary of Local Branch of National Highways Society Last Night

Frank W. Sisson was last night elected president of the local branch of the National Highways association, at the organization meeting held at the La Crosse Club. Oscar Hulberg was elected secretary.

The meeting was addressed by Organizer E. H. Billings, representative of the national association, who explained the aim of the association, which is to procure an appropriation from the United States government for the building and maintenance of a federal system of transcontinental highways.

Mr. Billings announced that he was meeting with encouragement in recruiting members for the association, having already procured more than eighty members.

Mr. Sisson acted as temporary chairman of the meeting.

Bullets From Above.

A scientist has drawn attention to a fact about aerial warfare that nobody seems to have thought of before. It is that if an army fires at an aeroplane overhead it is shooting at itself. The reason is that when anything is thrown up perpendicularly into the air it comes down with exactly the same speed and force with which it went up. A bullet leaves the muzzle of the rifle with tremendous force. A mile or so up the force becomes exhausted, the bullet slows, stops for a moment and then starts falling, gathering pace as it falls, till by the time it has reached the earth again it is traveling at exactly the same speed at which it started.—Pearson's Weekly.

Meat Versus Song.

The great tenor's lunch consisted of a cheese omelet, asparagus, fruit and sauce.

"No meat?" said the reporter. "As little meat as possible," the tenor replied. "Meat kills song. The nightingale, the thrush and lark are grain eaters, and their song is sweet. The carnivorous birds, the crow, etc., only croak, and in countries that go in for excessive meat eating—England, for instance—there are few good voices, while in the more vegetarian countries, such as Italy, fine singers abound. Song birds are vegetarians," he concluded. "Carnivorous birds croak."—New York Press.

NIGHT OF MAGIC AT HIGH SCHOOL

Meiklejohn Will Mystify and Entertain for Boys' Athletic Association This Evening

The high school auditorium is expected to be crowded tonight with students and others eager to see Walter S. Meiklejohn, famous local prestidigitator and illusionist, in the entertainment he is giving under the auspices of the Boys' Athletic association.

Mr. Meiklejohn is well known as a performer of feats of magic. He has appeared at local theaters with great success, and has a repertoire that promises a solid two hours of mystery and fun.

Interest in the event has been increased by two offers of $5 each which have been made for the correct solution of Mr. Meiklejohn's simple little trick known as the "miser's dream." The trick consists of the apparent materialization of money from the air, and so confident were the heads of the boys' athletic association, that no one would be able to grasp how the illusion was obtained, that they offered a prize for any person attending the performance who can describe the trick.

Mr. Meiklejohn, not to be outdone, backed the boys' offer with a similar one of his own. Interest is excited now, to discover if the offers will be accepted.

HITS FARMING METHODS

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 14.—Speaking to the representatives of one million farmers, assembled in the National Grange convention, Secretary of Agriculture Houston today declared that less than 12 per cent of the land in the United States is so cultivated as to yield as much as it should, yet the country has practically reached the stage where it is becoming dependent on foreign countries for the necessities of life.

CALL 300 CONTRACTORS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—District Attorney Whitman today obtained subpoenas for three hundred contractors, who will be summoned to testify in the John Doe, John A. Hennessy, graft investigation, appointed by William Sulzer, furnished the names of the contractors, who are expected to testify about the highways fund crookedness alleged by Hennessy against Tammany.

LIMIT HOURS OF LABOR

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 14.—The department of labor and industry was today advised by the agents of the department that the women may not work twelve hours on a Saturday and that female cooks may not be employed in restaurants more than six days a week.

A Queer Practice.

A queer practice which is general throughout all the tribes of Australia is the ribbing of the skin. When the children are still young long cuts are made across the chest, down the upper arm and leg and even across the back and ribs. While the wound is quite fresh the cut is opened and a mixture of mud is grafted in, the skin being pulled as far as possible over it. The skin eventually grows completely around the mud filling and forms ridges varying in length and size from an ordinary lead pencil to the thickness of a man's little finger and extending from armpit to armpit.—London Standard.

To Commercialize Ben Nevis.

Ben Nevis, Scotland's highest mountain, may be commercialized to meet the demands of tourists. A project is under way looking to the erection of a hotel on the peak, to occupy the site of the former meteorological observatory. The plans embrace a railway nearly five miles long. In an ordinary season it is estimated that fully 15,000 people climb Ben Nevis.

BRIEF MEETING OF COUNCIL TONIGHT

• When the common council convenes at 7:45 o'clock this evening it will remain in session only long enough to permit the clerk to read the bills for the last month and approve of their payment.

• The meeting will then adjourn to permit some of the members to attend the charity ball at the Germania tonight.

• For this reason the meeting will be called to order fifteen minutes ahead of regular time.

• It is probable that the adjourned meeting will be held on Wednesday or Thursday night of next week.

MOTHER-TEACHER UPHOLD BY COURT

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The right of a wife to bear children, even though she may be a teacher in the New York schools, was upheld in the Supreme court here today when Justice Seabury granted a writ of mandamus compelling the board of education to restore Mrs. Bridget C. Peixotto to her position.

Mrs. Peixotto was a teacher in School No. 14 and was dismissed ostensibly for the violation of certain rules concerning leaves of absence. The real cause of her dismissal, however, was that she became a mother without notifying the board, it is declared.

BOY KILLS GIRL AND SHOOTSELF

BLOOMER, Wis., Nov. 14.—Donald Lane, 15, recently paroled from the school for dependent children at Sparta, struck Miss Jennie McWethy, 19, over the head with an iron bar, inflicting fatal injuries. He attempted to take his own life by shooting with a rifle. The bullet passed completely through his body, piercing one lung. His condition is critical.

URGES LABOR PARTY

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 14.—The resolutions committee of the American Federation of Labor convention in session here today was considering a resolution providing for the establishment of national labor party.

It was introduced by Delegate Berry of the Pressmen's union, and requested the executive council of the federation to invite into a conference representatives of the socialist party, the women's suffrage league and the farmers' national union. The object of the conference would be to secure joint action in political affairs.

Old World Canals.

China has led the world in the matter of canal making, and to this day stands first among the nations for the skillful utilization of her inland waterways. One great canal maintains communication between Peking and Canton, a distance of 1,200 miles, and the total extent of the canals of China is over 5,000 miles. Russia owns the longest canal in the world, extending from St. Petersburg to the Chinese frontier, a distance of 4,472 miles, and also the second longest, covering 1,434 miles, between Astrakhan and St. Petersburg. As regards numbers of separate canals, Holland claims precedence, but her total mileage of inland waterways is only 930 miles.

One of Wales' Wonders.

The tower of Wrexham church (St. Giles) is one of the seven wonders of Wales. It is 135 feet high, and fifty-two statues adorn its niches. It was completed in 1606, although the church itself was erected in the reign of Henry VII. The church contains pictures from the brush of Rubens, and one of Rubilliac's sculptured masterpieces is the memorial to Mrs. Mary Myddleton, showing a female figure starting from the grave at the sound of the last trump. In the churchyard are many quaint epitaphs.—Cardiff Western Mail.

Ideal Length For Sermon.

What is the ideal length for a sermon? The question is raised by Dean Hole in his "Memories." By way of illustration, he tells a story of a sheriff's chaplain who had once asked a judge what was the proper length of a sermon. "Well, twenty minutes," was the answer. "With a leaning to the side of mercy." That is good advice—and, by the way, it is advice which Queen Victoria would have heartily approved. In 1867 the queen presented a pulpit glass to the Chapel Royal, Savoy, and it was timed for exactly eighteen minutes. There was no mistaking the hint. If you wanted to please the queen you stopped preaching at eighteen minutes.

CLEVELAND GETS OVER BIG STORM

Practically Recovers from Effect of Three Days' Blizzard Which Did Huge Damage

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 14.—Cleveland had today practically recovered from the effect of the three days' blizzard which held the city in its grip the forepart of the week, causing the death of five, the paralysis of business and a property loss of $1,000,000. The danger of flood and food famine has passed, local traffic has been restored to normal and conditions in general are greatly improved.

The local headquarters of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the Bell system, stated today that their loss in the state, as the result of the storm, would amount to $750,000, the heaviest they have ever suffered in Ohio.
